

WELLSVILLE POTTERY PLANT ALMOST DESTROYED BY FIRE

Pioneer Factory of Patterson Brothers Suffers Damage to Extent of $8,000.

EARLY SUNDAY MORNING

The Flames Were Discovered and Firemen Fought Hard to Save Anything.

FULL REPAIRS WILL BE MADE

As Soon As the Insurance Has Been Adjusted—The Blaze One of the Most Exciting That Has Lately Occurred in Wellsville.

Flames roaring, smoke pouring out in dense volumes, people scrambling to and fro, hither and thither, all kinds of yellow ware crashing through floors, walls toppling over and firemen shouting commands all contributed to the scene at a destructive fire yesterday morning in the yellow ware pottery at the corner of Twelfth and Wood streets, Wellsville.

At a few minutes past 6 o'clock an alarm was telephoned into central station and in an exceptionally short time fire companies Nos. 1 and 2 and the hook and ladder company No. 1 were on the scene of the conflagration. But before the firemen arrived scores of people had rushed pell mell from their homes to the burning buildings, and all displayed an eagerness to assist in conquering the fire. The first sight that met the gaze of the firemen was smoke and flame belching forth from windows and other apertures in the glost kiln shed. Men were working on the flamer from the inside and the firemen soon had volumes of water spraying on the burning structure.

The water for a time, however, seemed to only aggravate the maddening flames as they swept through the buildings like magic. First here and there the red tongued flame made its appearance, and that the pottery escaped without being totally destroyed can only be attributed to the heroic and untiring efforts of the dauntless firemen.

For almost two hours the firemen, under command of Chief Lownds, were compelled to labor before the fire was completely extinguished. At one time during the excitement it was feared that the entire plant was doomed—that was when flames were seen emerging from the roof of the packing department which is filled with straw and dry packing material, but very luckily the flames in this department were quenched without trouble. The fire was discovered by a resident opposite the pottery on Wood street.

It was then in the glost kiln shed which adjoins the biscuit and glost ware and packing departments. No one is able to state definitely the origin of the fire, but the general presumption is that it started from a spark falling from the glost kiln, it having been burned during the night. The total loss as estimated by J. W. Patterson, one of the owners, will reach nearly $8,000, and is divided as follows:

The buildings exclusive, $4,000; the biscuit ware, $1,500, and the glost ware, $2,500.

Everything was fully covered by insurance. The office was gutted by the fire, but all papers and books of value were saved, they being locked in an iron safe.

The owners of the plant are Messrs. J. W., George B., Henry and James Patterson, all brothers. They stated that the loss entailed by the fire is not confined alone to the destruction of the ware and buildings, but more to the after results, as they will be held back for such a long time in filling orders which have been piling in upon them more rapidly during the past few months than ever before in the history of the plant. They have also made announcement that the ruins will be replaced by a new structure immediately after the insurance adjuster has finished his inspection.

ABOUT $100,000

Is the Amount to Be Distributed to Spanish War Veterans in Ohio.

Columbus, March 24.—(Special).—The extra pay allowed the Spanish war veterans who were on duty at Camp Bushnell at Columbus prior to being mustered into the United States service will amount to about $100,000. The money will be paid as soon as the rolls of the various companies and commands are signed up and returned to the auditor of state, who will check them up and then send each soldier a voucher for the amount due him. These vouchers will be honored for payment at any bank.

Captain D. J. Brookes, commission and bond clerk in the office of Adjutant General Gyger, says that the allowance which the Ohio soldiers are to receive from the government is nothing more or less than a gift.

Some officers will receive as high as $100 and privates about $7. Captain Brookes makes the surprising statement that the soldiers are not really entitled to this extra pay.

HEROIC RESCUE OF A LITTLE ONE

A Man Was at Hand And Rescued the Youngster With Difficulty.

A small child which accidentally fell into the Ohio river at the foot of Union street yesterday afternoon narrowly escaped being drowned.

Lon Haines, the five-year-old son of Fred Haines, residing in a shanty boat at the foot of Union street, was standing on the end of the house boat when he accidentally lost his balance and fell into the river. The child, on account of its age, could not swim and Frank P. Potts, a glost kilnman at the Diamond, who was on the boat at the time, knowing this, plunged into the river and rescued the child. With the assistance of several persons who saw the accident, the child and Mr. Potts were helped onto the boat.

FINE SCHOOL HOUSE

Money to Be Used in Placing a New Eight Room Building in Bradshaw Addition.

In order that a new eight room school building shall be erected in Bradshaw addition, the board of education will ask the tax payers of the city, at the next election, for permission to issue bonds in anticipation of such improvement. The board has had the project in view for some time, and it was thoroughly discussed at the last meeting. The estimated cost will be $20,000, and it is desired the building shall be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the next school term.

In another column will be found a notice issued by the board for this improvement. The board has already procured the site.

A PAUPER'S GRAVE

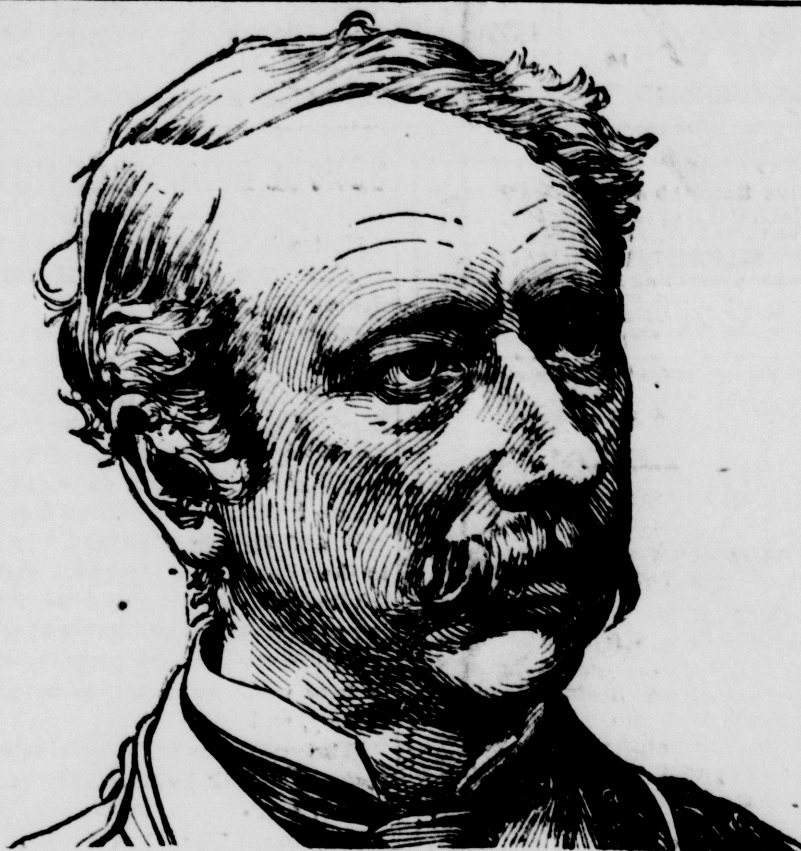

Hides All That Was Mortal of the Late Mary Ann Robinson, Who Burned to Death.

Lisbon, March 24.—(Special).—The remains of Mrs. Mary Ann Robinson, who was burned to death in the jail Thursday, were buried in the potters' field of the Lisbon cemetery Saturday afternoon.

Her death has aroused much criticism over the way the jail is heated. There is a small stove in each cell, which the prisoner is supposed to look after. When drunken or crazy people are locked up there is danger of them upsetting the stove or setting their clothing on fire, as Mrs. Robinson did.

Authorized to Sell.

Lisbon, March 24.—(Special).—Orin T. Hahn, as guardian of Vernon H. Hahn, of Knox township, has been ordered to sell the realty of the estate at private sale.

TO BE COMPLETED BY MIDDLE OF MAY

Work Is Being Pushed on the New Sewer Pipe Plant at Irondale.

AN UP-TO-DATE FACTORY

Which Will Employ at Least 150 Men. Irondale Citizens Jubilant Over the Prospect of Another Industrial Establishment Being Opened.

"The new East Ohio Sewer Pipe works, under construction at Irondale, will be completed and in operation by the middle of May," was the statement made to a News Review reporter by Charles Stevenson, of the Stevenson Foundry company, who is superintending the construction and furnishing the machinery necessary for the equipment of the plant. Mr. Stevenson said further:

"The works will undoubtedly be up to date in every way. Nothing but the latest improved machinery and other needful acquisitions is being installed within the plant. It is called a 'two press' plant, which is significant of a first-class sewer pipe manufacturing works. At least 150 men will be given employment in the works. The wages paid them will be in accordance to their worth. The owners of the plant are William Banfield, district manager of the American Tin Plate company; Fred O'Wesney, who will act as secretary of the incorporated company; Albert Freeman and two others, whose names will not be divulged. Mr. Freeman will superintend the works and is a very capable man, having had years of experience in the manufacturing of sewer pipe and bricks.

"Irondale citizens are jubilant over the ultimate prosperity which is assured for the plant and all are very grateful to the promoters for locating there."

DAMAGES ARE SOUGHT

By the Administrator of Mary Joseph, Who Was Killed on the Railroad.

Lisbon, March 24.—(Special).—Peter Joseph has been appointed administrator of the estate of Mary Joseph, late of Knox township. Bond $3,000. It appearing that Mary Joseph was killed by a Pennsylvania railroad train and that the administrator means to file suit against the company, the court advised that the administrator accept the offer of $148 from the company, which claims no liability.

The girl was killed while walking on the C. & P. tracks near Alliance about two months ago.

FEW WANT TO RUN

A Fourth Candidate Retires From the Fusion Ticket Nominated at Lisbon.

Lisbon, March 24.—(Special).—Lewis Bowman, nominated by the Democrats for mayor on the mixed ticket, has ordered his name taken off the ticket. This makes the fourth declination.

THE DEMOCRATS FILL THEIR TICKET

But Again They Nominate a Man For Mayor Who Declines to Run.

TRIBULATIONS ARE GREAT

In Trying to Make Nominations That Will Stick—Fully One-Third of Those First Nominated Have Now Got Off the Ticket.

With the name of George H. A. Hunt at the head of the list, which was substituted without that gentleman's consent in place of that of John W. Hall, who was nominated for mayor, but who positively declined to run, the local Democrats, represented by Chairman Ed Cook filed a convention certificate of nomination this morning with City Clerk J. N. Hanley.

Only one vacancy appears on the ticket, no candidate for council in the Fourth ward having as yet been found who will consent to try conclusions with the Republican nominee. At least one-third of the candidates have declined to run, and of those who have not done so only one or two are attempting to make any canvass.

To a reporter this morning George Hunt expressed indignation that his name had been placed on the ticket. He knew nothing about it until told of the fact by the reporter and declared he had never been consulted in the matter by anybody. "I have been a life-long Republican," said Mr. Hunt, "and would under no consideration serve on a Democratic ticket."

William Dickey, named for marshal, refuses to run, as does also Attorney W. E. Warren, the nominee for solicitor, and F. P. Williams, for city treasurer. Others nominated for minor offices who have not withdrawn treat their candidacy as a joke.

SEARCH FOR A FATHER

Chief Thompson is in receipt of a letter from John McSherry, clerk of the town of Baltibay, Ireland, asking information concerning the present whereabouts of John White, who formerly resided in East Liverpool.

White came to this country from Ireland, leaving two young daughters behind. Several months ago while in this city, he wrote to McSherry concerning the welfare of his children. McSherry succeeded in locating one of the daughters, who is now married, and whose name is Lizzie Woods, who promptly wrote here to her father. The letter was returned to her, White having evidently left before the letter reached this city.

It is not known where White is now located, but Chief Thompson is trying to learn his address.

WASTE OF WATER MUST BE STOPPED

SUPT. MORLEY TELLS WHY WATER METERS ARE NEEDED.

Consumption Has Increased Much Faster Than Revenue—Careless Water Users.

When asked for some figures on this matter, Superintendent Morley said: "For years we have been troubled in looking after leaks, and as the work of our men has become so extensive, we have been compelled to take severe measures. We have ordered some meters, and when they arrive we propose to install them wherever we deem it necessary. When a leak is reported at our office we send a man to see what is the matter, and as a result in many cases the supply is low. We tell these parties the hydrant has been left running when it should not have been, and invariably we are told that the running will be stopped in the future. But it is not. Within the past year our consumption has increased over 175,000 gallons daily, and unless some precaution is taken, we will be compelled by necessity to purchase a new pump. These things cannot be bought for a song. The revenues have increased only about $1,700, and by this it can be readily seen that water is furnished at below cost. That is not business, you know. Wilful waste of water is an important question with the trustees, and it must be stopped, and that immediately."

Where the first meter will be located has not yet been definitely decided by the officials of the water works, and this will not likely be attended to until the latter part of the week. The order. The order for a number was placed several weeks ago, and the first were to be received not later than last Saturday, but for some unexplained reason they are not here.

He Is Wanted On a Charge of Assault With Intent to Kill.

ASSAULTED AN OFFICER

Of Toronto and Beat Him Severely, Disfiguring Him For Life.

HE THREATENED TO KILL HIM

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, March 24.—(Special).—Governor Nash has honored a requisition made by Governor White, of West Virginia, for the extradition of Peter Fulmer, who is confined in the county jail at Steubenville and who is wanted to answer a charge of assault with intent to kill in Hancock county, W. Va.

Fulmer made a vicious assault on R. F. Watson, who is a special policeman at an opera house in Toronto. Watson arrested a brother of Fulmer for disorderly conduct and the latter, who was working at Irondale at the time, swore he would get even with the officer for doing this. He sent word that he was going to do up the entire police force of Toronto and soon after he went to the town. He found that Watson was employed in a pipe yard on the West Virginia side of the river during the day time. He remained in town over night and crossed to the other side the following morning to find Watson. He found him at work and attempted to assault him, but was prevented from doing so by a foreman and other employees.

Fulmer waited late in the afternoon, when he met Watson at the ferry as he was about to cross to Toronto. He had a mace in his possession and he told Watson that he would have to take his medicine. The latter pleaded for mercy, but Fulmer knocked him down and beat him severely. Two men heard Watson's cries and came to his rescue. They pulled Fulmer from his victim, but while doing so he kicked the latter on the jaw, leaving a mark which will disfigure him for life.

Fulmer said he would kill Watson and then fled to the Ohio side. He was arrested and taken before Mayor C. E. Miller, of Toronto, who gave him a jail sentence of 25 days. Fulmer is a burly fellow, over six feet tall, weighing 218 pounds. He is young. Watson is well up in years and is small in stature, weighing but 155 pounds.

The assault took place on March 11. Sheriff C. F. Allison is authorized to take Fulmer from the Jefferson county jail to Hancock county. The charge against him was filed in Justice Bradley's court. Affidavits have been filed by three witnesses to the assault. S. B. Taylor, an attorney of Toronto, wrote a personal note to Governor Nash, scoring young Fulmer in severe terms, and urging that the extradition be allowed. He said the man had a reputation as a puglist.

NEWSPAPER MEN

A Movement Has Been Started to Form a Press Club in This City.

The first steps have been taken toward forming a Press club, to be composed of the newspaper men and other members of the trade in this city. A temporary organization has been formed and at a meeting to be held later in the week a permanent organization will be effected.

Like similar journalistic organizations the local club is being formed upon pure social lines, for "they are all jolly good fellows."

Palm Sunday Services.

Palm Sunday was fittingly observed at the Church of the Ascension at both morning and evening services. Rev. R. H. Edwards, rector of the church, preached at each service and his sermons were much appreciated by the large congregations. Special music was rendered by the choir and highly enjoyed. Communion was also celebrated at the morning service.

Disfiguring Him For

HE THREATENED TO KILL HIM

The Accused Is Now in Jail at Steubenville Serving a 25-Day Sentence.
Extradition to West Virginia Is Strongly Urged.

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, March 24.—(Special).—Governor Nash has honored a requisition made by Governor White, of West Virginia, for the extradition of Peter Fulmer, who is confined in the county jail at Steubenville and who is wanted to answer a charge of assault with intent to kill in Hancock county, W. Va.

Fulmer made a vicious assault on R. F. Watson, who is a special policeman at an opera house in Toronto. Watson arrested a brother of Fulmer for disorderly conduct and the latter, who was working at Irondale at the time, swore he would get even with the officer for doing this. He sent word that he was going to do up the entire police force of Toronto and soon after he went to the town. He found that Watson was employed in a pipe yard on the West Virginia side of the river during the day time. He remained in town over night and crossed to the other side the following morning to find Watson. He found him at work and attempted to assault him, but was prevented from doing so by a foreman and other employees.

Fulmer waited late in the afternoon, when he met Watson at the ferry as he was about to cross to Toronto. He had a mace in his possession and he told Watson that he would have to take his medicine. The latter pleaded for mercy, but Fulmer knocked him down and beat him severely. Two men heard Watson's cries and came to his rescue. They pulled Fulmer from his victim, but while doing so he kicked the latter on the jaw, leaving a mark which will disfigure him for life.

Fulmer said he would kill Watson and then fled to the Ohio side. He was arrested and taken before Mayor C. E. Miller, of Toronto, who gave him a jail sentence of 25 days. Fulmer is a burly fellow, over six feet tall, weighing 218 pounds. He is young. Watson is well up in years and is small in stature, weighing but 155 pounds.

The assault took place on March 11. Sheriff C. F. Allison is authorized to take Fulmer from the Jefferson county jail to Hancock county. The charge against him was filed in Justice Bradley's court. Affidavits have been filed by three witnesses to the assault. S. B. Taylor, an attorney of Toronto, wrote a personal note to Governor Nash, scoring young Fulmer in severe terms, and urging that the extradition be allowed. He said the man had a reputation as a pugilist.

A Movement Has Been Started to Form a Press Club in This City.

The first steps have been taken toward forming a Press club to be composed of the newspaper men and other members of the trade in this city. A temporary organization has been formed and at a meeting to be held later in the week a permanent organization will be effected.

Like similar journalistic organizations the local club is being formed upon pure social lines, for "they are all jolly good fellows."

Palm Sunday Services.

Palm Sunday was fittingly observed at the Church of the Ascension at both morning and evening services. Rev. R. H. Edwards, rector of the church, preached at each service and his sermons were much appreciated by the large congregations. Special music was rendered by the choir and highly enjoyed. Communion was also celebrated at the morning service.

EAST END

FOOTBALL GAME

A Spirited And Interesting Contest in the East End Saturday.

The association football game between the Buckeyes and the Laughlins for the benefit of F. P. Judge took place Saturday at Columbian park. The Buckeyes won the toss and chose the west end. The ball in the start was sent up in the Laughlin end. Tucker cleared, but kicked out, giving a corner for the Buckeye, but Laughlin got the ball away. From a throw-in the Buckeyes got the ball well up in goal again. Godwin ran out of goal to save, failed to stop a low shot by Alcock, who scored the first point for his side.

This seemed to arouse the energy of the Laughlin forwards, who immediately ran the ball up, and from a scrimmage in the north of the Buckeyes' goal, Challiner scored for the Laughlin shortly before half time.

At the re-start McCullough took the place of Godwin in goal. The Buckeyes again attacked, but the fine defense of Pope and Tucker, who played a fine game was too much for them. The Laughlin forwards again got possession of the ball, and after some tricky play Challiner shot for goal hitting the cross bar. On the rebound of the ball, however, he again scored the second point for the Laughlins.

The Buckeye forwards tried hard to score, and Layson shot above the bar. McCullough saved neatly several times. From this point of the game the Laughlins had the advantage, and Challiner scored a third point for his side, which the Buckeyes disputed on account of an alleged foul by Little.

The referee over-ruled and the Buckeye's left the field and refused to play to a finish, there being but seven members left to play.

Laughlins won by 3-1.

CRICKET CLUB

English Residents of the East End to Form One Probably This Week.

There is a movement on foot in the East End to organize a cricket club, which if formulated gives promise of being one of the best in the country. It is a well known fact that many of the English residents of the Fifth ward, and especially those employed in the East End potteries, were cricket players while in England and now that they have moved to this section they have by no means lost interest in the game.

FOR TRANSITION OF CUBA.

Conference at White House Considered Transferring of Government to the Islanders.

Washington, March 24.—Matters incident to the transition of Cuba from American to Cuban control formed the subject of a conference of several hours duration at the White House last night. Those present included the president, Secretary Root, Postmaster General Payne and Governor General Leonard Wood. General Wood's visit here will be very short, and officials desire to learn everything possible about the condition of affairs while he is in Washington. The subject was gone over in many of its features and a very general interchange of ideas expressed. Postmaster General Payne had his first opportunity to meet General Wood last night.

Mr. Payne believes that the change in the two governments, so far as postal matters are concerned, can be accomplished very easily, although he thinks it will be necessary, for a time at least, to retain some of the postal officials of the island in their present places until the business of the de-

THE OLEOMARGARINE BILL

To Receive Share of Attention in Senate This Week.

Washington, March 24.—The oleomargarine bill will receive a share of the attention of the senate during the present week, but if there should be a time when no one is prepared to speak on it Senator Proctor, who will have charge of it, will give way to the Chinese exclusion bill, which is in the hands of Senator Penrose. Senator Proctor will call the oleo bill up after the expiration of the morning hour today and will make a statement of the intent and purpose of the bill. It is probable that further consideration then will be postponed for a day. Senator Proctor expresses the opinion that the final vote on the bill will not be long postponed, and it is understood that the members of the committee on agriculture, who are opposed to the bill, will not contend for many days for debate. Senator Proctor already has presented to them the desirability of fixing a time for a vote and while many senators have made no opposition to this proposition Senator Bailey thus far has objected. The present indications are that the bill will not be before the senate a great length of time. Senators Penrose, Mitchell and Fairbanks will be among those who will make speeches in support of the Chinese bill. This measure will provoke no little controversy. The Indian appropriation bill probably will be reported from committee during the week, and will receive early attention.

Men Likely to be Called Out In West Virginia and Virginia.

CONFERENCE MAY PREVENT IT.

Believed One Will Be Held Between Operators and Miners—Organizers May Be Sent Into the New and Kanawha Fields.

Charleston, W. Va., March 24.—The announcement of Secretary-Treasurer W. B. Wilson, of the United Mine Workers of America, that a strike would likely be called soon of the 35,000 miners in this state and Virginia, caused no surprise here, where both sides seem to be anticipating it. It is believed that a conference between the operators and the miners of the two states will soon be held, although there are reports that the demands of the miners may be made without further conference. Representatives of the operators have been here for the past two days from the Kanawha, New and Elk river districts.

Among other matters discussed was the purpose of the United Mine Workers to send organizers into the New and Kanawha fields to organize the miners. The United Mine Workers' organization has never been recognized in either of these fields, and the situation is causing the operators uneasiness. The operators also discussed car supply and wages for the coming year, and a committee was appointed to meet a committee of the West Virginia miners' association with the view of arranging the wage scale.

MAY WARD OFF STRIKE.

Effort to Be Made to Have Anthracite Convention Adjourn Without a Declaration.

Shamokin, Pa., March 14.—From an official source it was learned yesterday that an effort will be made today to adjourn the joint convention of districts Nos. 1, 7 and 9, United Mine Workers of America, without committing the delegates to a strike declaration.

At a meeting which began at 11 o'clock Saturday night and continued until early Sunday morning the special committee appointed on Saturday formulated a resolution which, the leaders hope, will satisfy both radical and conservative delegates. The committee, which consists of President Mitchell, District Presidents Nichols, Fahey and Duffey and the three district vice presidents, held another session last night.

The report of the committee will take the form of a resolution, the principal clause of which, it is authoritatively stated, will recommend the appointment of a committee to present to the operators the demand of the convention. Incorporated in the report are a number of resolutions adopted during the week, in addition to these made public by President Mitchell. All of these resolutions, it is stated, contain a strike declaration, effective April 1, but they were made subject to the resolution of the special committee report, which, so far as could be learned, does not declare for a strike. All of these demands made in the scale committee report are also embodied in the resolution, but the statement is made that only two of these—an eight-hour working day and the weighing of coal wherever practicable—will be insisted upon if the convention adopts the resolution. Should the report prove satisfactory the convention is expected to select a committee composed of others than officers of the union.

In the event of the operators refusing to recognize the committee it is within the province of the district presidents to declare a strike after receiving the sanction of the national executive board. When asked last night if the above statements were correct President Mitchell did not deny them, but declined to discuss the subject. The entire matter now rests with the delegates and it is possible

Lowell, Mass., Threatened With One of Greatest Strikes in Its History.

Lowell, Mass., March 24.—Lowell is threatened with one of the greatest strikes in its history as a result of the communication sent to the textile union by the mill agents in reply to the official demand of that body for an advance in wages for the textile operatives of the city. The communication was read at the meeting of the textile council yesterday afternoon and was a positive unconditional refusal of the demands. It was not a joint note, but each agent answered for himself. The language, however, was identical. It is believed that the note was framed at a meeting of the mill officials in Boston last Thursday night.

The increase demanded was to have gone into effect today, but because of the delay in the reply the various unions represented in the central body have not had an opportunity to express their views on the new aspect to the situation, so it has been decided to postpone final action until a meeting Wednesday evening next. Meantime special meetings of the unions will be held and a vote will be taken on the question of a strike. An informal vote was taken Sunday, and it is said that three-fourths of the number present favored a strike, the others reserving their decision until Wednesday night.

New Bedford, Mass., March 24.—At an executive committee meeting of the national loom fixers' union yesterday the principal business transacted was to vote to authorize the loom fixers' union of Lowell to use its own discretion in the matter of striking.

Lowell, Mass., March 24.—An estimate of the operatives who would be directly affected by a general strike places the number at 16,200.

THIRTY STRIKERS WERE KILLED

Fought With Soldiers at Seat of Petroleum Works, on the Black Sea.

According to this newspaper 300 strikers went last Friday to the police station and demanded the release of the ringleader, who had been arrested the previous day. This demand was refused. The strikers reassembled the following day (Saturday), attacked the jail and attempted to release the prisoners. They fired at the soldiers, who were guarding the prison. The latter, in turn, fired on the mob. Thirty of the rioters were killed and one soldier was wounded.

HON. W. R. STROH DEAD.

Member of House of Representatives From Carbon County, Pa.

Mauch Chunk, Pa., March 24.—Hon. William Righter Stroh, of this city, a member of the state house of representatives from Carbon county, died here yesterday, after a lingering illness, from Bright's disease. Mr. Stroh was a Republican. He was born in Mauch Chunk in 1858 and was the son of the late Judge Stroh, of Carbon county.

He was engaged in the wholesale and retail shoe business, was a director in the Second National bank, and one of the executors of his father's estate, which owns the largest industry in this place, the Mauch Chunk Iron works. Mr. Stroh was elected to the legislature in 1900. He stood high in many secret and benevolent societies, notably the Junior Order of American Mechanics, of which he was past national representative and past national councillor.

WOMAN KILLED HERSELF,

But Previously She Fired Two Shots at Her Husband.

Pittsburg, March 24.—After firing two shots at her husband, during a spell of anger, Mrs. Birdie Askinski, 28 years old, sent a bullet through her own heart yesterday afternoon, at Cornopolis. The tragedy was enacted at 4:20 o'clock, and according to the report made to the coroner, the shooting was the sequel of a quarrel between the woman and her husband.

The Quickest Cough Eradicator.

(From the Shortsville, N. Y., Enterprise.)

This is the month that one takes cold so easily and quickly—secures that hacking cough, which is so persistently disagreeable as we know by personal experience. And we also know that the quickest eradicator of such cough has been Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and which has been our staunch standby for several years. This is no paid "puff," but merely a just recognition for an invariable remedy for for coughs, colds, and all lung affections, and like the editor, it has scores of other staunch friends in this town. This remedy is for sale by Alvin H. Bulger.

Wintering in Colorado And Utah.

The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. Today physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fail to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other localities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. Instead of a single "Hospital day,"
the Hospital association has decided upon a "Hospital week" this year, and the period is now at hand. The hospital project has progressed so well,
notwithstanding the discouragements encountered, that success now seems assured. To the ladies who have worked so indefatigably to supply a public want more than public thanks are due. Every citizen of East Liverpool will acknowledge that a hospital
is one of the greatest needs of the city; every citizen of public spirit ought therefore to do all in his power
toward the speedy establishment of such an institution. It is not enough to say that a hospital is a good thing
and we ought to have one. Good things cost money, and money the hospital association must have before
it can proceed far with its noble work.
The appeal that will shortly be presented to the public for increasing the hospital fund ought to meet with a generous response. The past year has been one of great prosperity in East Liverpool, and citizens can afford to give liberally toward a hospital not, if ever. Let each one do his part, and be sure that he does not make a selfish calculation as to what his part really is, and the whole hospital fund can be raised without burdening anyone. The sincerity of the oft-repeated assertion that we want a hospital is now to be put to the test. How earnestly the people desire to see such an institution established will be proven by the size of their contributions. Money talks, and every subscription counts,
whether it be big or little.

Those who fear that the government and the customs of the United States may be subverted by the immigrants flocking here cannot find very much to support their views in the revised census figures as to foreign population in the United States. During the 10 years between 1890 and 1900,
3,750,000 foreign immigrants landed in the United States. Nevertheless,
13 states of the country had fewer foreign inhabitants at the end of the 10 years than they had in 1890. In the whole country the increase in the number of foreign born inhabitants in 1900 over 1890 was only 1,100,000,
against an increase of native born inhabitants in the same period of 12-100,000. This disparity is a most welcome showing, but it cannot be used
as proof that criminals and paupers
from abroad do not continue to gain
a foothold upon our shores contrary to the laws of the land.

All the principal associations of business men throughout the country

are united in supporting and approv-
Representative Adams, of Pennsylvania, for the reorganization of the consular service of the United States on a merit system basis. The United States can never have proper representation abroad until it abandons the haphazard method of filling its important consular posts.

An English economist of prominence asserts that public confidence in the free trade policy has evaporated during the last 30 years. The industrial prosperity and commercial growth of the United States, in defiance of free trade principles, is an object lesson that has made an impression upon the whole world.

It is not necessary for the legislature to enact new laws against gambling. If it could devise a way of enforcing present laws it would accomplish something worth while.

If half the money that is wasted in worse than useless pleasures could go into the hospital fund for a few weeks, there would be no occasion to worry about its future.

Senator Clark, of Montana, made known his presidential aspirations and the next day the skies wept cold
Montana.

As a plain business proposition,
why should the state continue to keep up a canal system that is operated
at a loss?

Carnegie recently gave away 38 libraries in a day and intimated that there were more where those came from.

Des Moines has a candidate for mayor who weighs 400 pounds.
Strange to say, he is running well.

Why does the man who asserts that there are rascals in politics so frequently try to break into the game?

DR. HAMILTON WON.

A Verdict in His Favor Rendered in
the Suit Before 'Squire
McCarron.

The suit of Dr. W. W. Hamilton
against Bert Maple, tried before a jury
in Justice McCarron's court on Saturday, resulted in a verdict for the doctor for the sum sued for, $15.

Dr. Hamilton was put on the stand after other physicians had testified, to show that the difficult operation of craniotomy was necessary. He has performed the operation before in East Liverpool, and showed by means of charts that he followed the process
described by an eminent authority,
Prof. Hurst, of the University of Pennsylvania, in such operations.

An effort was made by the prosecution to show that the woman's death resulted from injuries sustained in the operation. Dr. Hamilton testified that death, which resulted five or six days
later, was not due to the operation;
that it could not have caused the injuries alleged, and that death was due to uremic poisoning. Had it resulted from the operation it would have followed in a much shorter time. His testimony satisfied the jury and the court. Attorney J. H. Brookes, in his address to the jury, highly eulogized
the doctor's skill and knowledge.

Citizen of France Executed For Shooting at Haytian Official.

Port au Prince, Hayti, March 24.—
Leon Gabriel, who claimed to be a citizen of France and who was executed Saturday after having fired a shot from a revolver at General
Cameau, the chief of police, was formerly an aide de camp of ex-President
Legitime. Upon this fact the Haytian government bases the claim that Gabriel was a citizen of France. He was regularly registered here at the French legation. He left seven children.

As a result of the execution of Gabriel, the French minister has requested that a French man-of-war be sent here and is awaiting a reply from Paris. Quiet prevails here.

To Lord Rosebery's famous "spade
and wind" metaphor may be added two or three lapses, not all of which are mixed metaphors, perpetuated by Lord Londonderry.

In 1896 Lord Londonderry threw the house of lords into roars of laughter
during the debate on the second reading of the Irish land bill by gravely declaring that "this is the reason why
you have failed to settle the Irish land question in the future as you have done
in the past."

In the course of the same speech he concluded a period with, "This is the keystone of the bill, are you going to kill it?"

Better still was a sentence which he uttered in 1897 when speaking once more on the Irish land question, "That your lordship will see," referring to a quotation he had just made, "indorses up to the hilt what I have said."—Tat-

DR. HAMILTON WON.

the Suit Before Squire
McCarron.

The suit of Dr. W. W. Hamilton
against Bert Maple, tried before a jury in Justice McCarron's court on Saturday, resulted in a verdict for the doctor for the sum sued for, $15.

Dr. Hamilton was put on the stand
after other physicians had testified, to
show that the difficult operation of
performed the operation before in East Liverpool, and showed by means
of charts that he followed the process
described by an eminent authority,
Prof. Hurst, of the University of Pennsylvania, in such operations.

An effort was made by the prosecution to show that the woman's death
resulted from injuries sustained in the operation. Dr. Hamilton testified that death, which resulted five or six days
later, was not due to the operation;
that it could not have caused the injuries alleged, and that death was due
to uremic poisoning. Had it resulted from the operation it would have followed in a much shorter time. His testimony satisfied the jury and the court. Attorney J. H. Brookes, in his address to the jury, highly eulogized
the doctor's skill and knowledge.

Citizen of France Executed For Shooting at Haytian Official.
Port au Prince, Hayti, March 24.—
Leon Gabriel, who claimed to be a citizen of France and who was executed Saturday after having fired a shot from a revolver at General
Cameau, the chief of police, was formerly an aide de camp of ex-President
Legitime. Upon this fact the Haytian
government bases the claim that Gabriel was a citizen of France. He
was regularly registered here at the French legation. He left seven children.
As a result of the execution of Gabriel, the French minister has requested that a French man-of-war be sent here and is awaiting a reply from Paris. Quiet prevails here.

To Lord Rosebery's famous "spade
and wind" metaphor may be added two
mixed metaphors, perpetuated by Lord
Londonderry.
In 1896 Lord Londonderry threw the house of lords into roars of laughter
during the debate on the second reading of the Irish land bill by gravely declaring that "this is the reason why
you have failed to settle the Irish land
question in the future as you have done
in the past."
In the course of the same speech he
concluded a period with, "This is the keystone of the bill, are you going to kill it?"
Better still was a sentence which he
uttered in 1897 when speaking once
more on the Irish land question, "That your lordship will see," referring to a quotation he had just made, "indorses
up to the hilt what I have said."—Tattler.

BIG BLAZE AVERTED

Desire of Boys to See a Conflagration Discovered Just in Time.

A fire which might have resulted seriously was narrowly averted Saturday afternoon at the home of David Mannist, Main street. Mrs. Mannist had hired several small boys to clean the yard at the rear of the house, and it seems that after piling up a large amount of straw, paper and wood against the high pine board fence and woodshed the boys were seized with a desire to see a "great big fire," which they evidently would have had, if Mrs. Mannist had not appeared on the scene just as the flames were making good headway in the shed and along the fence.

The boys were severely reprimanded and immediately discharged.

STARTED TO WORK

Fifty Foreigners Added to the Force at the Carroll-Porter Boiler Works.

Fifty foreigners who arrived in the city last week started to work in the Carroll-Porter boiler works this morning. It is said they are skilled mechanics. Those of them that are married will move their families here and the population of Wellsville will be materially increased.

However, they have as yet been unable to secure houses and the chances are that they will be compelled to live alone for some time.

The management of the boiler works has had much difficulty in securing men and the arrival of this large contingent is a source of satisfaction, as the numerous orders which have been accumulating recently can be disposed of in a few months.

The Ladies' Whist club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Harry Gourley and Mrs. Black at the residence of the latter, Front street, Saturday evening. The social card game was indulged in for several hours, after which a choice collation was served by the hostesses.

The members of the club present were: Mrs. T. W. Butler, Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. G. L. Howe, Mrs. P. M. Smith, Mrs. F. K. Hutcheson and Mrs. Julius Goetz; Misses Harriet Silver, Grace Parke, Edith Mannist, Blanche Butler, Florence Everson, Lillian Barron and Jennie Jenkins.

BLOOD POISONING

Resulting From an Injured Hand May Cause James Linn's Death.

While at work in Stevenson's foundry last week James Linn met with an accident, which, it is feared, may result in his death. His left hand was struck by a falling piece of heavy iron, and in consequence very badly mashed. For a day or two the wound inflicted was not considered dangerous and not until Saturday was there any cause for alarm.

It was then stated by the attending physician that blood poisoning had set in, the ultimate result of which can only be conjectured. Relatives of the unfortunate man have been summoned and grave fears are being entertained as to the possible results.

CHURCH AT CHESTER

Will No Doubt Be the Result of Episcopal Services Held There.

The second Episcopal service ever held in Chester were held yesterday afternoon in the M. E. church. A large congregation listened to a splendid sermon and pathetic appeal by Rev. Edwin Weary, rector of St. Stephen's church. His appeal to Christians to follow the Savior through this holy week was very touching and many were made to realize that the observance of these holy days is not alone a custom, but a duty.

Rev. Mr. Weary is a deservedly popular minister, but is destined to become more so as people of this critical age are not slow to recognize the talent and godliness that are so prominent in his makeup. Through his efforts Chester will no doubt be rewarded by the establishment of a church in the near future. It is his aim to have the church centrally located. The exact location, however, is not definitely settled upon, but will likely be in the vicinity of Rock Springs park.

SOLD NINE LOTS

Geo. H. Owen & Co. Sell a Tract of Chester Property to W. L. Taylor.

Lot No. 171 on this avenue was also sold to William Randolph.

Watch And Money Stolen.

Mrs. George Fulton reported to Constable Allison Saturday evening that a thief had entered her home during the day and stolen a gold watch and a $1 bill. She strongly suspected a certain young man who, while denying his guilt, agreed to make good.

Woman Badly Hurt.

In a serious condition lies Mrs. Garrett Pugh, at her home near Fairview, as a result of being thrown from a buggy Saturday afternoon while driving to Chester.

Mrs. A. Baxter and daughter, Miss Rachel, after a pleasant visit with relatives, have returned to their home at New Cumberland.

Charley Sharp is having a foundation laid on his lot, Third street, for a new frame dwelling. Cal. Bailey, California avenue, is doing likewise.

Republican Committee Meeting.

The Republican central committee will meet at city hall tomorrow evening at 7:30 to make final arrangements for the coming election.

Advance Prayers.

A young Germantown mother in putting her five-year-old son to bed noticed that he clambered under the covers without saying his prayers. She grew reproachful. "Why, Warren, mother never knew you to forget your prayers before."

"Indeed, mother," was the reply, "I didn't forget. Grace and I said then for four nights during the rain yesterday, when we couldn't play. We would have got through the whole week if nurse had not come to dress us."

The Reason.

"There is a very intimate nervous connection between the brain and the stomach," said the scientific man.

"That explains it," answered the humble person who is willing to learn.

"What?"

"The reason why nearly every political alliance or financial deal has to be discussed at a banquet."—Washington Star.

CHAPLAIN ADDED BATTLESHIP

To Russian Navy by Religious Services, at Cramps' Ship Yard, Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, March 24.—The big battleship Retvizan, which has just been completed for the Russian government at Cramps' shipyard, was officially added to the czar's navy yesterday and the regular routine of a man-of-war began on the ship. The ceremony was simple, and was conducted by Father Ratskowsky, the ship's chaplain. The crew of 750 men and officers were lined up on the main deck with bare heads as the services of the Greek church were read, after which, at a signal from Captain Stchensnovitch, the Retvizan's commander, the blue cross of St. Andrew was hoisted at the stern. Soon after the ceremony had been concluded the battleship was hauled into mid-stream by four tugs and will sail for Cronstadt about April 12.

RIOTING IN BELGIUM.

Suffrage Advocates Use Dynamite—A Big Parade.

Brussels, March 24.—The Liberals and the Socialists, including many members of the chamber of deputies, held a big parade here this afternoon. The paraders halted in front of the city hall and sent in a deputation to the Burgomaster of Brussels, bearing a petition for universal suffrage and proportional representation. The burgomaster promised to submit this petition to parliament. There were no disorders here yesterday.

As Prince Albert, a nephew of King Leopold, was leaving the theater Saturday night hundreds of socialist students gathered about him and shouted for universal suffrage.

Dynamite cartridges were exploded yesterday morning in the postoffice at La Louvere, province of Hainaut, Belgium. The building was damaged, but no one was hurt.

The explosion last Friday night of dynamite cartridges under the home of M. Derbaise, a Catholic deputy, at Binche, Hainaut province, by which no one was injured, is also attributed to the suffrage agitation.

WILCOX VERDICT A SURPRISE.

Young Man Found Guilty of First Degree Murder.

Elizabeth City, N. C., March 24.—The verdict that young Wilcox was guilty of murder in the first degree for the killing of Miss Cropsey seems to have met with popular approval, though it was not considered probable early Saturday that the jury would so report. District Attorney Ward said Saturday he never looked for any verdict other than murder in the second degree.

Lawyer Aydtlett, for the defense, will enter an appeal on behalf of the prisoner. He will seek to set aside the verdict on the ground that it was not consistent with the evidence brought out in the trial. There is little prospect of the prisoner paying the death penalty on the date set by Judge Jones. As the supreme court does not meet till next September, it is more than probable that it will be several months before the case is disposed of finally.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS GREW.

Good News of Merchandise, in the Philippines.

Washington, March 24.—The insular division of the war department has prepared for publication a statement showing in comparative form the commerce of the Philippine islands for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1901, and 1900.

The total value of merchandise imported during the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1901, was $21,818,212, against $17,187,991 for the corresponding period of 1900; and the exports of merchandise amounted to $18,866,798, against $17,883,200 for 1900. These figures show an increase of 27 per cent for the imports and 6 per cent for the exports during the nine months.

Gold and silver was imported during the nine months of 1901, to the value of $2,082,644; same period of 1900, $2,363,291; exported during the 1901 period, $736,167; corresponding period of 1900, $2,222,807.

The value of merchandise coming from the United States for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1901, was $2,712,190, an increase of $1,140,218 over the corresponding period of 1900, while the exports for the period of 1901 amounted to $2,737,059, an increase of $629,534.

CONVICTS KILL THEMSELVES.

Five Burned to Death in Attempt to Escape.

Kosciusko, Miss., March 24.—Five county convicts made an attempt Saturday night to burn their way out of prison, burning the stockade house, in which they were confined, down over their heads, cremating themselves. They were all negroes and named as follows:

Bob Burt.
Phil Newell.
Jim Culbertson.
Amos Ralford.
Jim Jones.

The prisoners were let out to Robert Campbell, county contractor, whose farm is situated 16 miles west of this place and were all charged with minor offenses.

CUBAN RECIPROCITY.

Fight Over It May Reach Floor of House This Week.

Washington, March 24.—There is a bare possibility that the fight over the question of Cuban reciprocity will be transferred to the floor of the house during the coming week. The probabilities, however, are that the reciprocity resolution introduced by Mr. Payne, the floor leader of the majority after the action of the Republican caucus last week will not be called up until the following week, though upon this point no definite decision has been reached as yet by the leaders. The present program is to take up the army bill after the disposal of the Moss-Rhea contested election case on Tuesday. Several days will be consumed in general debate on this bill, as the Democrats are inclined to use it as a text for speeches in opposition to the policy of the administration in the Philippines. It is a foregone conclusion that Mr. Rhea will be unseated when the vote on his contested election case is taken on Tuesday.

CHURCH AT CHESTER

Will No Doubt Be the Result of Episcopal Services Held There.

The second Episcopal service ever held in Chester was held yesterday afternoon in the M. E. church. A large congregation listened to a splendid sermon and pathetic appeal by Rev. Edwin Weary, rector of St. Stephen's church. His appeal to Christians to follow the Savior through this holy week was very touching and many were made to realize that the observance of these holy days is not alone a custom, but a duty.

Rev. Mr. Weary is a deservedly popular minister, but is destined to become more so as people of this critical age are not slow to recognize the talent and godliness that are so prominent in his makeup. Through his efforts Chester will no doubt be rewarded by the establishment of a church in the near future. It is his aim to have the church centrally located. The exact location, however, is not definitely settled upon, but will likely be in the vicinity of Rock Springs park.

SOLD NINE LOTS

Lot No. 171 on this avenue was also sold to William Randolph.

Watch And Money Stolen.

Mrs. George Fulton reported to Constable Allison Saturday evening that a thief had entered her home during the day and stolen a gold watch and a $1 bill. She strongly suspected a certain young man who, while denying his guilt, agreed to make good.

Woman Badly Hurt.

In a serious condition lies Mrs. Garrett Pugh, at her home near Fairview, as a result of being thrown from a buggy Saturday afternoon while driving to Chester.

Advance Prayers.

A young Germantown mother in putting her five-year-old son to bed noticed that he clambered under the covers without saying his prayers. She grew reproachful. "Why, Warren, mother never knew you to forget your prayers before."

"Indeed, mother," was the reply. "I didn't forget. Grace and I said then for four nights during the rain yesterday, when we couldn't play. We would have got through the whole week if nurse had not come to dress us."

The Reason.

"There is a very intimate nervous connection between the brain and the stomach," said the scientific man.

"That explains it," answered the humble person who is willing to learn.

"What?"

"The reason why nearly every political alliance or financial deal has to be discussed at a banquet."—Washington Star.

To Russian Navy by Religious Services, at Cramps' Ship Yard, Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, March 24.—The big battleship Retvizan, which has just been completed for the Russian government at Cramps' shipyard, was officially added to the czar's navy yesterday and the regular routine of a man-of-war began on the ship. The ceremony was simple, and was conducted by Father Ratskowsky, the ship's chaplain. The crew of 750 men and officers were lined up on the main deck with bare heads as the services of the Greek church were read, after which, at a signal from Captain Stchensnovitch, the Retvizan's commander, the blue cross of St. Andrew was hoisted at the stern. Soon after the ceremony had been concluded the battleship was hauled into mid-stream by four tugs and will sail for Cronstadt about April 12.

RIOTING IN BELGIUM.

Suffrage Advocates Use Dynamite—A Big Parade.

Brussels, March 24.—The Liberals and the Socialists, including many members of the chamber of deputies, held a big parade here this afternoon. The paraders halted in front of the city hall and sent in a deputation to the burgomaster of Brussels, bearing a petition for universal suffrage and proportional representation. The burgomaster promised to submit this petition to parliament. There were no disorders here yesterday.

As Prince Albert, a nephew of King Leopold, was leaving the theater Saturday night hundreds of socialist students gathered about him and shouted for universal suffrage.

Dynamite cartridges were exploded yesterday morning in the postoffice at La Louvere, province of Hainaut, Belgium. The building was damaged, but no one was hurt.

The explosion last Friday night of dynamite cartridges under the home of M. Derbaise, a Catholic deputy, at Binche, Hainaut province, by which no one was injured, is also attributed to the suffrage agitation.

WILCOX VERDICT A SURPRISE.

Young Man Found Guilty of First Degree Murder.

Elizabeth City, N. C., March 24.—The verdict that young Wilcox was guilty of murder in the first degree for the killing of Miss Cropsey seems to have met with popular approval, though it was not considered probable early Saturday that the jury would so report. District Attorney Ward said Saturday he never looked for any verdict other than murder in the second degree.

Lawyer Aydtlett, for the defense, will enter an appeal on behalf of the prisoner. He will seek to set aside the verdict on the ground that it was not consistent with the evidence brought out in the trial. There is little prospect of the prisoner paying the death penalty on the date set by Judge Jones. As the supreme court does not meet till next September, it is more than probable that it will be several months before the case is disposed of finally.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS GREW.

Good News of Merchandise, in the Philippines.

Washington, March 24.—The insular division of the war department has prepared for publication a statement showing in comparative form the commerce of the Philippine islands for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1901, and 1900.

The total value of merchandise imported during the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1901, was $21,818,212, against $17,187,991 for the corresponding period of 1900; and the exports of merchandise amounted to $18,866,798, against $17,883,200 for 1900. These figures show an increase of 27 per cent for the imports and 6 per cent for the exports during the nine months.

Gold and silver was imported during the nine months of 1901, to the value of $2,082,644; same period of 1900, $2,363,291; exported during the 1901 period, $736,167; corresponding period of 1900, $2,222,807.

The value of merchandise coming from the United States for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1901, was $2,712,190, an increase of $1,140,218 over the corresponding period of 1900, while the exports for the period of 1901 amounted to $2,737,059, an increase of $629,534.

CONVICTS KILL THEMSELVES.

Five Burned to Death in Attempt to Escape.

Kosciusko, Miss., March 24.—Five county convicts made an attempt Saturday night to burn their way out of prison, burning the stockade house, in which they were confined, down over their heads, cremating themselves. They were all negroes and named as follows:

Bob Hurt.

Phil Newell.

Jim Culberson.

Amos Raiford.

Jim Jones.

The prisoners were let out to Robert Campbell, county contractor, whose farm is situated 16 miles west of this place and were all charged with minor offenses.

CUBAN RECIPROCITY.

Fight Over It May Reach Floor of House This Week.

Washington, March 24.—There is a bare possibility that the fight over the question of Cuban reciprocity will be transferred to the floor of the house during the coming week. The probabilities, however, are that the reciprocity resolution introduced by Mr. Payne, the floor leader of the majority after the action of the Republican caucus last week will not be called up until the following week, though upon this point no definite decision has been reached as yet by the leaders. The present program is to take up the army bill after the disposal of the Moss-Rhea contested election case on Tuesday. Several days will be consumed in general debate on this bill, as the Democrats are inclined to use it as a text for speeches in opposition to the policy of the administration in the Philippines. It is a foregone conclusion that Mr. Rhea will be unseated when the vote on his contested election case is taken on Tuesday.

Few men can draw as large a check as this, but the man who can owes much of his success to dealing with responsible and well-managed financial institutions.

CARS WERE BEING GUARDED.

Men Accused of Attempting Wrecking Released, at Norfolk, Va.

Norfolk, Va., March 24.—A. C. Worrell and George Wynne, strikers, who were arrested at midnight Saturday night, charged with attempting to wreck a car of the Norfolk Railway and Power company, were released last night on $500 bond each. The police claim Wynne had a revolver on him when arrested.

All cars were being looked out for last night by guards. The suburban lines especially were being closely watched. There were 50 deputy sheriffs on duty and all pedestrians were being scanned. A repetition of Saturday night's trouble will mean the possible recall of the Seventy-first regiment, recently relieved from duty.

PRESIDENTS TO CONFER,

Should United States Senate Pass Nicaragua Canal Bill.

Managua, Nicaragua, March 24.—President Zelaya has accepted an invitation from the president of Costa Rica, Señor Iglesias, to visit Limon, Costa Rica, in order to confer on matters pertaining to the proposed Nicaragua canal. The acceptance of this invitation is contingent upon the passage by the United States senate of the Nicaragua canal bill. The date for the proposed visit has not yet been decided upon.

American League Rules to Govern.

Chicago, March 24.—Last year's American league rules will govern in the leading western universities in inter-collegiate baseball this year, and Joe Cantillon, the former American league umpire, will probably officiate at the college games. These points came out yesterday, as the result of an interview between Director George Huff, of Illinois, and Director Stagg, of the University of Chicago.

WILL IT END WAR?

Certain Boer Leaders Arrived at Pretoria, Under a Flag of Truce.

CONFERRED WITH KITCHENER.

Afterwards Entrained For Kronstadt, Whence They Were to Go Out Under Safe Escort—Had Been Hard Pressed by the British.

Pretoria, March 24.—Acting President Schalkbarger, F. W. Reitz, ex-secretary of state of the Transvaal, and Commandants Lucas, Meyer and Krogh, with their secretaries and attendants, arrived here Saturday, March 22, at 2:04 p. m., on a special train from Balmoral under a flag of truce.

Upon arriving here Mr. Schalkbarger and his party drove immediately to Lord Kitchener's headquarters, where he had an interview with the British general. The Boers afterwards proceeded to the railroad station and entrained at 5 o'clock for Kronstadt, whence they will go out under a safe escort.

Boers Were Hard Pressed.

For a week past Mr. Schalkbarger and his colleagues have been stationed at Rhenoster Kop, north of Balmoral, where they have been closely pressed by British columns. Dispatch riders entered Balmoral Friday night and notified the British of the approach of Mr. Schalkbarger and his party.

It is reported that the Boer position at Rhenoster Kop had become almost hopeless and that Mr. Schalkbarger once narrowly escaped capture.

London, March 24.—News that the Boer government had entered British lines is regarded as having but one meaning, namely, that another attempt is being made to negotiate peace. The fact that the censor passed the news of this movement is accepted as confirmation of this opinion.

Nothing is actually known here of the intentions of Messrs. Schalkbarger, Reitz, Meyer and Krogh. It is possible they have only sought permission to traverse the British lines in order to consult with Mr. Steyn and the Boer generals, DeWet and Delarey. But whatever their object the news has been welcomed in London as pointing to the possibility of peace.

Some correspondence which was seized a short time ago, when Mr. Steyn narrowly escaped capture, proved that he and Mr. Schalkbarger were anxious to conclude peace. No extravagant hopes, however, are being built on the outcome of the movements of Mr. Schalkbarger and his companions, chiefly because it is feared that Delarey, in the flush of his recent success, will refuse to be a party to any negotiations.

Had Received No Official Information.

The war office has informed a representative of the Associated Press that it has received no official information either confirming or contradicting the news.

Commandant Krogh is one of the secretaries of the Boer government. He was formerly an administrator of Swaziland and has not been prominent during the war.

Brussels, March 24.—The Petit Bleu, referring to the arrival at Pretoria of Messrs. Schalkbarger, Reitz, and Commandants Meyer and Krogh, says it believes that Mr. Schalkbarger's move is in response to fresh British overtures for peace, made out of gratitude for the release of General Methuen, and predicts that these overtures will lead to no result unless Boer independence is conceded.

TWO MEN WERE KILLED.

Others Injured In Railway Wreck, In Virginia.

Charlottesville, March 24.—Passenger train No. 38, northbound, on the Southern railroad, was wrecked by a landslide at Covesville, 15 miles south of here, at 4:15 o'clock yesterday morning. The train was 40 minutes late and running at an unusual rate of speed. The engine was ditched and six coaches completely destroyed by fire. The loss of mail was the greatest in the history of southern railroading. Nicholas Lown, a Pullman car porter, and also an unknown tramp, were killed. The injured are: Turner, fireman, fatally burned; Mail Clerks A. L. Holton, seriously burned; C. R. Cover, legs burned; H. N. Link, arm broken; J. L. Schmidt, right side injured; J. F. Stikeler, hurt internally, and D. P. Wine, head bruised. Conductor M. T. Rust, hands burned; Engineer A. B. Lynn, slightly bruised. Turner was sent to the University of Virginia hospital and the others were sent on to Washington for medical attention. The passengers escaped without injury.

Neck Broken by the Fall.

Pittsburg, March 24.—Harry Whitesell, 28 years old, whose home is in Broad street, Sewickley, fell and broke his neck yesterday morning and died before any aid could be given him. He appeared at a camp of negroes, near Osborne station, about 8 o'clock.

Ten thousand demons gnawing away at one's vitals couldn't be much worse than the tortures of itching piles. Yet there's a cure. Doan's Ointment never fails.

OFFICIALS MUST GO.

President Plainly Told Fitchie and McSweeney They Would Be Discharged.

New York, March 24.—Commissioner of Immigration Fitchie, who has returned from Washington, talked very freely yesterday of his call on President Roosevelt. He said he felt that his visit had done no good and that both he and Assistant Commissioner McSweeney would have to leave their positions. He said:

"I asked the president to send gentlemen of his personal selection in whom he had perfect confidence over to the island and let them look into our methods and see where we could do any better for the immigrant than we are doing. He would not listen to my proposition, but said that he had decided, because of the friction between New York and Washington, that the best thing to do was to remove the commissioners at this place. I told him he was mistaken; that there had never been any friction between New York and Washington, but between Washington and New York. He would not listen to any argument, but flatly announced his determination that both Mr. McSweeney and myself must go."

Mr. Fitchie knew nothing as to who his successor is to be, nor when the appointment is to be made.

CHOLERA AND THE PLAGUE.

Four More Cases of Former and Two Deaths of Latter, Reported at Manila.

Manila, March 2.—There have been four more cases of cholera here and two more deaths from the plague are reported. The health authorities believe that their rigid precautions have averted an epidemic.

As General Chaffee did not want the men of the Third infantry to run the risk of cholera as a result of contact with the city, that regiment has already been taken aboard the United States transport Grant, which will sail for San Francisco one week ahead of her schedule time.

MOROS ATTACK AMERICANS.

Detachment of Signal Corps Have Fight In Mindanao—One of Signal Corps Killed.

Manila, March 24.—Brigadier General George W. Davis, stationed at Zamboanga, island of Mindanao, reports that a detachment of the signal corps, consisting of 17 men, has been attacked by 200 Moros near Parang, Mindanao. One of the signal corps men was killed. The Moros captured the transportation of the detachment, including four pack mules.

The United States transport Buford has arrived here. She has on board a detachment of the Twenty-seventh infantry, a squadron of the Eleventh cavalry and 50 pack mules.

FRANCO-RUSSIAN DECLARATION.

Considered In Peking as Making For Peace.

Peking, March 24.—There is little discussion, either among the diplomats or the officials, of the Franco-Russian declaration, and this declaration is generally regarded as making for peace.

The Chinese newspapers are emphasizing the humiliation of China, saying she is treated by the powers as though she were incompetent to defend her own interests and that she is placed upon a level with Corea.

The Chinese foreign office is preparing to send independent ministers to establish legations in Italy, Austria and Spain. The Chinese ministers to Great Britain, Russia and the United States have been heretofore respectively accredited to these nations.

CARS WERE BEING GUARDED.

Men Accused of Attempting Wrecking Released, at Norfolk, Va.

Norfolk, Va., March 24.—A. C. Worrell and George Wynne, strikers, who were arrested at midnight Saturday night, charged with attempting to wreck a car of the Norfolk Railway and Power company, were released last night on $500 bond each. The police claim Wynne had a revolver on him when arrested.

All cars were being looked out for last night by guards. The suburban lines especially were being closely watched. There were 50 deputy sheriffs on duty and all pedestrians were being scanned. A repetition of Saturday night's trouble will mean the possible recall of the Seventy-first regiment, recently relieved from duty.

PRESIDENTS TO CONFER.

Should United States Senate Pass Nicaragua Canal Bill.

Managua, Nicaragua, March 24.—President Zelaya has accepted an invitation from the president of Costa Rica, Senor Iglesias, to visit Limon, Costa Rica, in order to confer on matters pertaining to the proposed Nicaragua canal. The acceptance of this invitation is contingent upon the passage by the United States senate of the Nicaragua canal bill. The date for the proposed visit has not yet been decided upon.

American League Rules to Govern.

Chicago, March 24.—Last year's American league rules will govern in the leading western universities in inter-collegiate baseball this year, and Joe Cantillon, the former American league umpire, will probably officiate at the college games. These points came out yesterday, as the result of an interview between Director George Huff, of Illinois, and Director Stagg, of the University of Chicago.

WILL IT END WAR?

Certain Boer Leaders Arrived at Pretoria, Under a Flag of Truce.

CONFERRED WITH KITCHENER.

Afterwards Entrained For Kronstadt, Whence They Were to Go Out Under Safe Escort—Had Been Hard Pressed by the British.

Pretoria, March 24.—Acting President Schalkbarger, F. W. Reitz, ex-secretary of state of the Transvaal, and Commandants Lucas, Meyer and Krogh, with their secretaries and attendants, arrived here Saturday, March 22, at 2:04 p. m., on a special train from Balmoral under a flag of truce.

Upon arriving here Mr. Schalkbarger and his party drove immediately to Lord Kitchener's headquarters, where he had an interview with the British general. The Boers afterwards proceeded to the railroad station and entrained at 5 o'clock for Kronstadt, whence they will go out under a safe escort.

Boers Were Hard Pressed.

For a week past Mr. Schalkbarger and his colleagues have been stationed at Balmoral, north of Johannesburg, where they have been closely pressed by British columns. Dispatch riders entered Balmoral Friday night and notified the British of the approach of Mr. Schalkbarger and his party.

It is reported that the Boer position at Balmoral had become almost hopeless and that Mr. Schalkbarger once narrowly escaped capture.

London, March 24.—News that the Boer government had entered British lines is regarded as having but one meaning, namely, that another attempt is being made to negotiate peace. The fact that the censor passed the news of this movement is accepted as confirmation of this opinion.

Nothing is actually known here of the intentions of Messrs. Schalkbarger, Reitz, Meyer and Krogh. It is possible they have only sought permission to traverse the British lines in order to consult with Mr. Steyn and the Boer generals, De Wet and Delarey. But whatever their object the news has been welcomed in London as pointing to the possibility of peace.

Some correspondence which was seized a short time ago, when Mr. Steyn narrowly escaped capture, proved that he and Mr. Schalkbarger were anxious to conclude peace. No extravagant hopes, however, are being built on the outcome of the movements of Mr. Schalkbarger and his companions, chiefly because it is feared that Delarey, in the flush of his recent success, will refuse to be a party to any negotiations.

Had Received No Official Information.

The war office has informed a representative of the Associated Press that it has received no official information either confirming or contradicting the news.

Commandant Krogh is one of the secretaries of the Boer government. He was formerly an administrator of Swaziland and has not been prominent during the war.

Brussels, March 24.—The Petit Bleu, referring to the arrival at Pretoria of Messrs. Schalkbarger, Reitz, and Commandants Meyer and Krogh, says it believes that Mr. Schalkbarger's move is in response to fresh British overtures for peace, made out of gratitude for the release of General Methuen, and predicts that these overtures will lead to no result unless Boer independence is conceded.

TWO MEN WERE KILLED.

Others Injured in Railway Wreck, in Virginia.

Charlottesville, March 24.—Passenger train No. 38, northbound, on the Southern railroad, was wrecked by a landslide at Coveseville, 15 miles south of here, at 4:15 o'clock yesterday morning. The train was 40 minutes late and running at an unusual rate of speed. The engine was derailed and six coaches completely destroyed by fire. The loss of mail was the greatest in the history of southern railroading. Nicholas Lown, a Pullman car porter, and also an unknown tramp, were killed. The injured are: Turner, fireman, fatally burned; Mail Clerks A. L. Holton, seriously burned; C. R. Cover, legs burned; H. N. Link, arm broken; J. L. Schmidt, right side injured; J. F. Stikelerather, hurt internally, and D. P. Wine, head bruised. Conductor M. T. Rust, hands burned; Engineer A. B. Lynn, slightly bruised. Turner was sent to the University of Virginia hospital and the others were sent on to Washington for medical attention. The passengers escaped without injury.

Neck Broken by the Fall.

Pittsburg, March 24.—Harry Whitesell, 28 years old, whose home is in Broad street, Sewickley, fell and broke his neck yesterday morning and died before any aid could be given him. He appeared at a camp of negroes, near Osborne station, about 8 o'clock.

OFFICIALS MUST GO.

New York, March 24.—Commissioner of Immigration Fitchie, who has returned from Washington, talked very freely yesterday of his call on President Roosevelt. He said he felt that his visit had done no good and that both he and Assistant Commissioner McSweeney would have to leave their positions. He said:

"I asked the president to send gentlemen of his personal selection in whom he had perfect confidence over to the island and let them look into our methods and see where we could do any better for the immigrant than we are doing. He would not listen to my proposition, but said that he had decided, because of the friction between New York and Washington, that the best thing to do was to remove the commissioners at this place. I told him he was mistaken; that there had never been any friction between New York and Washington, but between Washington and New York. He would not listen to any argument, but flatly announced his determination that both Mr. McSweeney and myself must go."

Mr. Fitchie knew nothing as to who his successor is to be, nor when the appointment is to be made.

CHOLERA AND THE PLAQUE.

Four More Cases of Former and Two Deaths of Latter, Reported at Manila.

Manila, March 2.—There have been four more cases of cholera here and two more deaths from the plague are reported. The health authorities believe that their rigid precautions have averted an epidemic.

As General Chaffee did not want the men of the Third infantry to run the risk of cholera as a result of contact with the city, that regiment has already been taken aboard the United States transport Grant, which will sail for San Francisco one week ahead of her schedule time.

MOROS ATTACK AMERICANS.

Detachment of Signal Corps Have Fight in Mindanao—One of Signal Corps Killed.

Manila, March 24.—Brigadier General George W. Davis, stationed at Zamboanga, island of Mindanao, reports that a detachment of the signal corps, consisting of 17 men, has been attacked by 200 Moros near Parang, Mindanao. One of the signal corps men was killed. The Moros captured the transportation of the detachment, including four pack mules.

The United States transport Buford has arrived here. She has on board a detachment of the Twenty-seventh infantry, a squadron of the Eleventh cavalry and 50 pack mules.

FRANCO-RUSSIAN DECLARATION.

Considered in Peking as Making for Peace.

Peking, March 24.—There is little discussion, either among the diplomats or the officials, of the Franco-Russian declaration, and this declaration is generally regarded as making for peace.

The Chinese newspapers are emphasizing the humiliation of China, saying she is treated by the powers as though she were incompetent to defend her own interests and that she is placed upon a level with Corea. The Chinese foreign office is preparing to send independent ministers to establish legations in Italy, Austria and Spain. The Chinese ministers to Great Britain, Russia and the United States have been heretofore respectively accredited to these nations.

HOME STUDY COURSE

EDITED BY  BENJAMIN ANDREWS LL.D.

The National Period of American Literature

BY LORENZO SEARS, LIT. D.

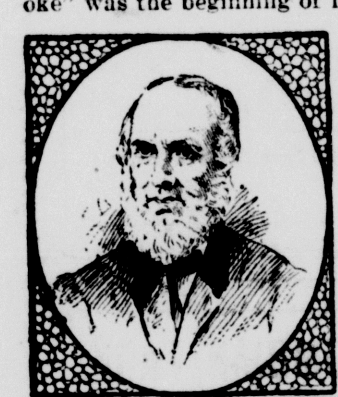

Professor of American Literature in Brown University.

It is common with most American writers of his generation, John Greenleaf Whittier believed that there was a wealth of Indian tradition which might be turned into the riches of American verse. In the first complete collection of his poems Whittier placed "The Bridal of Pennacook" at the beginning, as if typifying his earliest poetic ambition finding the legend on the banks of his own Merrimac, thus indicating that he would not go far afield for the themes of his poetry. Like Scott, and Irving afterward, he introduces the old fashioned "chronicle of border wars" to give an air of credibility to a legend which might as well have been gathered from the land of the mountain inn as from the fourth book in his representative library of "Bunyan, Watts and a file of almanacs." But this was a custom of the time. The apostrophe to the river which flowed unbridled and unobstructed from mountain to sea is in the truer manner of a dweller on its banks. So also is the description of lodge and wigwam, decorated with spoils of chase and war, and of the chief's magic skill and the daughter's woodland freedom and love, of the wedding feast to the river sagamores and the sachems from the crystal hills to the far southeast. The story of Indian pride, always greater than Indian love, carries with it the gloom which belongs to the forest pagan even in his days of peace. And in his hour of treachery and blood "Mogg Megone" shows how dark was the strife and dire the revenge and bitter the hate between the savage and the encroaching alien. So the "Legendary Poems" hint of a remote time when the Norseman touched upon this dreary coast and sailed away, and of a later age when Puritan Endicott offered a Quaker maiden to any sea captain who would take her to the Barbados to sell for "higher price than Indian girl or Moor." Then he turns back to aboriginal story "around Sebago's lonely lake" or in more distant Acadia, where French and English contend for domination, or to nearer Pentucket and the midnight raid of painted savages, or the daylight swoop of priest and sheriff upon Goodman Macey's cottage for the Quaker who had taken refuge from the coming storm.

In all this the past of the country with which the poet is familiar is recalled and clothed with its traditions and its history, not as prosy chronicler and annalist had depicted it for Englishmen at home or for posterity, but as fact and fancy were blended in the mind of the first New Englander who was lifted above the hard restrained life of the eastern seaboard to discover and use the scant material for poetry which lay in its valleys and on its hillsides.

This Whittier saw and made the most of it. To the citizen of the middle or southern states it seemed unrefined and poor as the soil in Essex pastures, but to the youths who have ranged over them and are now young in memory only the verse of their native poet will always have the flavor of the sea, the river and the mountains, as Bryant's will have of the woods and hills of Hampshire.

This legendary poetry and the ambition to develop whatever possibilities lay beneath a sterile surface both receive a check in the poet's manifest call to enlist in the antislavery movement which was starting in 1833. Colonization in Liberty was its first outcome, with Henry Clay as president of the society having the enterprise in charge, but as this scheme provided for freedmen only it appeared to meet the rising issue but partially. The pamphlet which Whittier wrote is the prose statement of his views, but "Randolph of Roanoke" was the beginning of his service in verse to the cause he had undertaken to champion at the cost of everything to which he had aspired. From this time his pen was busy in writing "Voices of Freedom." The pecuniary unprofitableness of these was counterbalanced by the growing response they elicited from the north. Their title in the next four years include "Toussaint L'Ouverture," "The Yankee Girl," "The Slave Mother's Lament," "Our Fellow Countrymen in Chains," "The Hunters of Men," "Song of the Free" and several not found among his collected poems. In them all the purpose of the poet is clear and strong even if the performance is not always artistic. It was not a time when a reformer like Whittier could dally with art. A great battle was to be fought, and the devoted soldier could not always stop to burnish his weapons. It was enough for him if his shots raised a cheer; it was much the same to him if they called forth a howl of rage. Their very roughness made some of his verses appeal to the boys in blue as more correct measures and exact rhymes did not.

Whittier.

In particular this was true of his verse in the war period. It matters not if the most popular of them is founded upon a newspaper report of doubtful authenticity or that its movement is sometimes forward and back, marching and halting like Stonewall's troops. It has in it the spirit of reverence for the country's flag in spite of temporary disloyalty, and also of honor for Barbara Frietchie's defiant patriotism. The poetic idea is there and a ruling sentiment of the nation in sufficient abundance to furnish a drama to full houses night after night.

Generation after generation of children will recite it as they run Old Glory up the flagstaff and learn the lessons of loyalty to it in the patriotic literature of their country. Early in the war the note of forbearance and patience is apparent, as in his "Word For the Hour" and "The Watchers." Faith is strong in "Astraea" and hope in "Mithridates" and charity in the "Anniversary Poem." But in them all is the purpose to help on the triumph of consistency in a nation professing to be free and the home of the world's oppressed.

So earnest was he in these contributions of his to the strife that the thought was of more account than the word and the meaning of his own verse than the form of it. The need of it all is declared in the lines to the flag at the capitol:

But now I see it! In the sun
A free flag floats from yonder dome,
And at the nation's hearth and home
The justice long delayed is done.

The war over and the strain past, the poet turned toward the fields and memories of youth with greater leisure to do more finished work. He could not write without the stress of agitating reform upon him those poems in which the rural heart rejoices in city or country. Peace had not been six months declared when he began to write what he called "Snow-Bound, a Winter Idyl, a Homely Picture of Old New England Homes." Winter on the Massachusetts coast has had a few apologists and countless maligners, but none has more lovingly portrayed its warm side or more faithfully exhibited its bleak side, giving to it also something of the softness and warmth of a snowdrift to a roistering, red cheeked boy and his frolicsome dog. Outside it is the carnival of the storm; within it is the picture of comfort and safety beyond the chill and the depth of overwhelming snows. It is the war song of the New England farmer in conflict with his winter, with a strain of victory at the end, and of joy through it all. Only a farmer's boy could have known what to write, and a true poet only could have set the snow scene in such verse.

Whichever aspect of country life the poet delineates he will always find readers who have seen or heard of his description and to be pleased with what they could not have so truly done themselves. Consequently he is the country people's poet more than any other and the songmaker of all who love the country from one month to 12 according to time and opportunity or even necessity. Fortunately he wrote enough to last days and weeks, as poetry should be read in limited quantities to be best appreciated. The variety of his themes and execution also prevents the weariness of monotony, the mediocre performance sometimes affording the relief of change from the greater strain and the surpassing excellence of his best achievement. But no one can read his poems in course or at random without knowing that early and late he was the tuneful voice of his province recalling its forest legends, uttering its protests for righteousness and finally chanting its anthems of the sea and the storm, ending in the cadences of evening as his sun went down in peace and with these words from "The Shadow and the Light."

Shine on us with the light which glowed

Upon the trance bound shepherd's way,

And drowned by tides of everlasting day.

The man will always be remembered as even greater than his work, good and effective as that was in the cause of truth and humanity. Much that might be said of his sterling virtues and his true poetry may best be summed up in a stanza of Holmes' tribute to his companion gone:

Best loved and saintliest of our singing train,

Earth's noblest tributes to thy name belong.

A lifelong record closed without a stain,

A blameless memory shined in deathless song.

UNION OF CHURCHES.

The North and South M. E. Branches May Arrange to Work Together.

A JOINT COMMISSION MET.

Northern General Conference to Be Urged to Accept Plan For Federation in Several Branches of Church Work—Church South Agreed.

Baltimore, March 24.—As a result of the meeting here of a joint commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, the general conference of the northern church will be urged to adopt at its next meeting a plan for federation in several branches of work.

The adoption of this plan will result in a consolidation of mission work and the publishing houses at Shanghai, China, the publication of a union paper in Mexico, and the preparation of a union hymn book, common catechism and common order of public worship.

The northern commissioners acknowledge that their church made a mistake in beginning the work of a revision of the hymn book without first inviting an equal committee from the southern church. It has therefore been decided that the work of revision must begin over again.

The plan of federation has already been adopted by the general conference of the southern church.

GOD PRESERVED THE MISSION.

Flood Waters Rose All Around, but Were Kept Out of Mission Rooms.

Pittsburg, March 24.—Rev. Ralph Elliott, of the McKees Rocks mission, preached at the mission rooms, Charleston, W. Va., yesterday afternoon.

THERE ARE MANY ROADS

The Finger Posts Marking the Many By-Paths of Present Day Troubles All Seem to Point the Same Way. Lack of Nerve Force.

Day by day the columns of this paper bring new evidence from East Liverpool people of the great work being done by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. Why they accomplish so much is easily explained. They are prepared with an eye single to restoring nerve force. They accomplish this object which no other medicine in the world is able to do. That's why hundreds of East Liverpool people offer their testimony.

Mr. Cyrus Hanselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done more for me to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for five or six years, and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got them at Larkin's drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets, and they took hold finely, something nothing else ever did. The pain and stiffness is about gone. I am feeling strong and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

tiers avenue, yesterday afternoon on "A Miracle." The sermon was founded on an incident of the recent flood. Mr. Elliott told how the waters rose four inches above the floor of the mission, and that every other place on the same level in the district was flooded, but the water did not enter the mission room.

When he went to the mission the morning after the flood subsided, he told how the floor was dry, while the marks outside the door showed that the water was four inches above the floor. While there are a number of skeptics in the town, the incident is believed by some to be a wonderful miracle of Divine origin, and a large crowd assembled to hear Rev. Mr. Elliott's discourse yesterday afternoon.

The National Period of American Literature

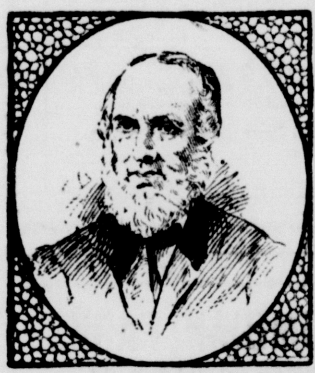

BY LORENZO SEARS, LIT. D.,
Professor of American Literature in Brown University.

It is common with most American writers of his generation, John Greenleaf Whittier believed that there was a wealth of Indian tradition which might be turned into the riches of American verse. In the first complete collection of his poems Whittier placed "The Bridal of Pennacook" at the beginning, as if typifying his earliest poetic ambition finding the legend on the banks of his own Merrimac, thus indicating that he would not go far afield for the themes of his poetry. Like Scott, and Irving afterward, he introduces the old fashioned "chronicle of border wars" to give an air of credibility to a legend which might as well have been gathered from the land of the mountain inn as from the fourth book in his representative library of "Bunyan, Watts and a file of almanacs." But this was a custom of the time. The apostrophe to the river which flowed unabridged and unobstructed from mountain to sea is in the truer manner of a dweller on its banks. So also is the description of lodge and wigwam, decorated with spoils of chase and war, and of the chief's magic skill and the daughter's woodland freedom and love, of the wedding feast to the river sagamores and the sachems from the crystal hills to the far southeast. The story of Indian pride, always greater than Indian love, carries with it the gloom which belongs to the forest pagan even in his days of peace. And in his hour of treachery and blood "Mogg Megone" shows how dark was the strife and dire the revenge and bitter the hate between the savage and the encroaching alien. So the "Legendary Poems" hint of a remote time when the Norseman touched upon this dreary coast and sailed away, and of a later age when Puritan Endicott offered a Quaker maiden to any sen captain who would take her to the Barbados to sell for "higher price than Indian girl or Moor." Then he turns back to aboriginal story "around Sebago's lonely lake" or in more distant Acadia, where French and English contend for domination, or to nearer Pentucket and the midnight raid of painted savages, or the daylight swoop of priest and sheriff upon Goodman Macey's cottage for the Quaker who had taken refuge from the coming storm.

In all this the past of the country with which the poet is familiar is recalled and clothed with its traditions and its history, not as prosy chronicler and annalist had depicted it for Englishmen at home or for posterity, but as fact and fancy were blended in the mind of the first New Englander who was lifted above the hard restrained life of the eastern seaboard to discover and use the scant material for poetry which lay in its valleys and on its hill-sides.

This Whittier saw and made the most of it. To the citizen of the middle or southern states it seemed unfruitful and poor as the soil in Essex pastures, but to the youths who have ranged over them and are now young in memory only the verse of their native poet will always have the flavor of the sea, the river and the mountains, as Bryant's will have of the woods and hills of Hampshire.

This legendary poetry and the ambition to develop whatever possibilities lay beneath a sterile surface both receive a check in the poet's manifest call to enlist in the antislavery movement which was starting in 1833. Colonization in Liberty was its first outcome, with Henry Clay as president of the society having the enterprise in charge, but as this scheme provided for freedmen only it appeared to meet the rising issue but partially. The pamphlet which Whittier wrote is the prose statement of his views, but "Randolph of Roanoke" was the beginning of his service in verse to the cause he had undertaken to champion at the cost of everything to which he had aspired. From this time his pen was busy in writing "Voices of Freedom." The pecuniary unprofitableness of these was counterbalanced by the growing response they elicited from the north. Their title in the next four years include "Toussaint L'Ouverture," "The Yankee Girl," "The Slave Mother's Lament," "Our Fellow Countrymen in Chains," "The Hunters of Men," "Song of the Free" and several not found among his collected poems. In them all the purpose of the poet is clear and strong even if the performance is not always artistic. It was not a time when a reformer like Whittier could dally with art. A great battle was to be fought, and the devoted soldier could not always stop to burnish his weapons. It was enough for him if his shots raised a cheer; it was much the same to him if they called forth a howl of rage. Their very roughness made some of his verses appeal to the boys in blue as more correct measures and exact rhymes did not.

Whittier.

In particular this was true of his verse in the war period. It matters not if the most popular of them is founded upon a newspaper report of doubtful authenticity or that its movement is sometimes forward and back, marching and halting like Stonewall's troops. It has in it the spirit of reverence for the country's flag in spite of temporary disloyalty, and also of honor for Barbara Frietche's defiant patriotism. The poetic idea is there and a ruling sentiment of the nation in sufficient abundance to furnish a drama to full houses night after night.

Generation after generation of children will recite it as they run Old Glory up the flagstaff and learn the lessons of loyalty to it in the patriotic literature of their country. Early in the war the note of forbearance and patience is apparent, as in his "Word For the Hour" and "The Watchers." Faith is strong in "Astraea" and hope in "Mithridates" and charity in the "Anniversary Poem." But in them all is the purpose to help on the triumph of consistency in a nation professing to be free and the home of the world's oppressed.

So earnest was he in these contributions of his to the strife that the thought was of more account than the word and the meaning of his own verse than the form of it. The need of it all is declared in the lines to the flag at the capitol:

But now I see it! In the sun
A free flag floats from yonder dome,
And at the nation's hearth and home
The justice long delayed is done.

The war over and the strain past, the poet turned toward the fields and memories of youth with greater leisure to do more finished work. He could not write without the stress of agitating reform upon him those poems in which the rural heart rejoices in city or country. Peace had not been six months declared when he began to write what he called "Snow-Bound, a Winter Idyl, a Homely Picture of Old New England Homes." Winter on the Massachusetts coast has had a few apologists and countless maligners, but none has more lovingly portrayed its warm side or more faithfully exhibited its bleak side, giving to this also something of the softness and warmth of a snowdrift to a roistering, red checked boy and his frolicsome dog. Outside it is the carnival of the storm; within it is the picture of comfort and safety beyond the chill and the depth of overwhelming snows. It is the war song of the New England farmer in conflict with his winter, with a strain of victory at the end, and of joy through it all. Only a farmer's boy could have known what to write, and a true poet only could have set the snow scene in such verse.

Whichever aspect of country life the poet delineates he will always find readers who have seen or heard of his description and to be pleased with what they could not have so truly done themselves. Consequently he is the country people's poet more than any other and the songmaker of all who love the country from one month to 12 according to time and opportunity or even necessity. Fortunately he wrote enough to last days and weeks, as poetry should be read in limited quantities to be best appreciated. The variety of his themes and execution also prevents the weariness of monotony, the mediocre performance sometimes affording the relief of change from the greater strain and the surpassing excellence of his best achievement. But no one can read his poems in course or at random without knowing that early and late he was the tuneful voice of his province recalling its forest legends, uttering its

Shine on us with the light which glowed
Upon the trance bound shepherd's way,
Who saw the darkness overclouded
And drowned by tides of everlasting day.

The man will always be remembered as even greater than his work, good and effective as that was in the cause of truth and humanity. Much that might be said of his sterling virtues and his true poetry may best be summed up in a stanza of Holmes' tribute to his companion knee:

Best loved and saintliest of our singing train,
Earth's noblest tributes to thy name belong,
A lifelong record closed without a stain,
A blameless memory shined in deathless song.

Northern General Conference to Be
Urged to Accept Plan For Federa-

Work—Church South Agreed.

Baltimore, March 24.—As a result of the meeting here of a joint commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, the general conference of the northern church will be urged to adopt at its next meeting a plan for federation in several branches of work.

The adoption of this plan will result in a consolidation of mission work and the publishing houses at Shanghai, China, the publication of a union paper in Mexico, and the preparation of a union hymn book, common catechism and common order of public worship.

The northern commissioners acknowledge that their church made a mistake in beginning the work of a revision of the hymn book without first inviting an equal committee from the southern church. It has therefore been decided that the work of revision must begin over again.

The plan of federation has already been adopted by the general conference of the southern church.

Lack of Nerve Force.

Day by day the columns of this paper bring new evidence from East Liverpool people of the great work being done by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. Why they accomplish so much is easily explained. They are prepared with an eye single to restoring nerve force. They accomplish this object which no other medicine in the world is able to do. That's why hundreds of East Liverpool people offer their testimony.

Mr. Cyrus Hanselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done more for me to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for five or six years, and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got them at Larkins' drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets, and they took hold finely, something nothing else ever did. The pain and stiffness is about gone. I am feeling strong and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents a box at dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine company, Buffalo, N. Y. See that portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. D., are on every package.

SUSPICION AROUSED

Friends of Charles Dunbar at Steubenville Believe He Was Murdered.

Concerning the death at Asheville, N. C., of Charles Dunbar, who formerly worked in this city, a Toronto paper says:

"The manner of Mr. Dunbar's death is a mystery. He had been in a lumber camp in the North Carolina hills for some time in the hope of benefiting his health. When the body was found the features were so disfigured that identification was impossible and it was only through the label on a bottle of medicine in his pockets that his identity was established and his friends located. It is the belief of friends in Steubenville that the unfortunate young man was murdered."

A PENNSYLVANIA COUPLE

Rev. J. W. Gorrell, of the Christian church, yesterday performed the ceremony for Mr. Frank W. Schweitzer, of McKeesport, Pa., and Miss Glendora Cessna of Bedford, Pa.

The young couple, accompanied by the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. Lobengier, and wife, had come to the city, evidently of the opinion that they could be married without a license. At any rate they did not have one when they applied to Rev. Mr. Gorrell, whereupon that gentleman informed them that a license must be obtained.

W. H. Vodrey was found and through him the coveted paper was secured, after which the young couple were married at about 3 o'clock at the parsonage. The bride was modestly gowned in a blue foulard silk trimmed with lace, while the groom wore a dark suit. They presented a splendid appearance and gave as their reason for being married in this city their wish to surprise friends at home. Mr. and Mrs. Schweitzer will make their home in McKeesport, where the former is well known.

HEROIC RESCUE OF A LITTLE ONE

A Man Was at Hand And Rescued the Youngster With Difficulty.

A small child which accidentally fell into the Ohio river at the foot of Union street yesterday afternoon narrowly escaped being drowned. Lon Haines, the five-year-old son of Fred Haines, residing in a shanty boat at the foot of Union street, was standing on the end of the house boat when he accidentally lost his balance and fell into the river. The child, on account of its age, could not swim and Frank P. Potts, a glost kilnman at the Diamond, who was on the boat at the time, knowing this, plunged into the river and rescued the child. With the assistance of several persons who saw the accident, the child and Mr. Potts were helped onto the boat.

The estimated cost will be $20,000, and it is desired the building shall be ready for occupancy by the beginning of the next school term.

Her death has aroused much criticism over the way the jail is heated. There is a small stove in each cell, which the prisoner is supposed to look after. When drunken or crazy people are locked up there is danger of them upsetting the stove or setting their clothing on fire, as Mrs. Robinson did.

TO BE COMPLETED BY MIDDLE OF MAY

Which Will Employ at Least 150 Men. Irondale Citizens Jubilant Over the Prospect of Another Industrial Establishment Being Opened.

"The new East Ohio Sewer Pipe works, under construction at Irondale, will be completed and in operation by the middle of May," was the statement made to a News Review reporter by Charles Stevenson, of the Stevenson Foundry company, who is superintending the construction and furnishing the machinery necessary for the equipment of the plant. Mr. Stevenson said further:

"The works will undoubtedly be up to date in every way. Nothing but the latest improved machinery and other useful acquisitions is being installed within the plant. It is called a 'two press' plant, which is significant of a first-class sewer pipe manufacturing works. At least 150 men will be given employment in the works. The wages paid them will be in accordance to their worth. The owners of the plant are William Banfield, district manager of the American Tin Plate company; Fred O'Wessney, who will act as secretary of the incorporated company; Albert Freeman and two others, whose names will not be divulged. Mr. Freeman will superintend the works and is a very capable man, having had years of experience in the manufacturing of sewer pipe and bricks.

"Irondale citizens are jubilant over the ultimate prosperity which is assured for the plant and all are very grateful to the promoters for locating there."

FEW WANT TO RUN

A Fourth Candidate Retires From the Fusion Ticket Nominated at Lisbon.

Lisbon, March 24.—(Special)—Lewis Bowman, nominated by the Democrats for mayor on the mixed ticket, has ordered his name taken off the ticket. This makes the fourth declination.

THE DEMOCRATS FILL THEIR TICKET

But Again They Nominate a Man For Mayor Who Declines to Run.

TRIBULATIONS ARE GREAT

In Trying to Make Nominations That Will Stick—Fully One-Third of Those First Nominated Have Now Got Off the Ticket.

With the name of George H. A. Hunt at the head of the list, which was substituted without that gentleman's consent in place of that of John W. Hall, who was nominated for mayor, but who positively declined to run, the local Democrats, represented by Chairman Ed Cook filed a convention certificate of nomination this morning with City Clerk J. N. Hanley.

Only one vacancy appears on the ticket, no candidate for council in the Fourth ward having as yet been found who will consent to try conclusions with the Republican nominee. At least one-third of the candidates have declined to run, and of those who have not done so only one or two are attempting to make any canvass.

To a reporter this morning George Hunt expressed indignation that his name had been placed on the ticket. He knew nothing about it until told of the fact by the reporter and declared he had never been consulted in the matter by anybody. "I have been a life-long Republican," said Mr. Hunt, "and would under no consideration serve on a Democratic ticket."

William Dickey, named for marshal, refuses to run, as does also Attorney W. E. Warren, the nominee for solicitor, and F. P. Williams, for city treasurer. Others nominated for minor offices who have not withdrawn treat their candidacy as a joke.

The ticket as placed in the hands of the city clerk follows: Mayor—George H. A. Hunt. Marshal—William Dickey. Solicitor—W. E. Warren. Treasurer—F. P. Williams. Street Commissioner—Richard Nagle.

Water works trustee—Ed Cook. Cemetery trustee—Dr. G. P. Ikirt. Council—First ward, Harvey McHenry; Second ward, Alex McEane; Third ward, A. E. Czech; Fifth ward, Dr. W. M. Calhoun.

Assessors—First ward, M. Willison; Second ward, Stewart Collins; Third ward, George F. White; Fourth ward, James McKenna; Fifth ward, N. J. Orr.

Board of education—Kelsey Bennett, M. W. Elliott, John Grant and John J. Kerr.

EXTRADITION IS DEMANDED FOR A HANCOCK COUNTY MAN

Information concerning the present whereabouts of John White, who formerly resided in East Liverpool.

White came to this country from Ireland, leaving two young daughters behind. Several months ago while in this city, he wrote to McSherry concerning the welfare of his children. McSherry succeeded in locating one of the daughters, who is now married, and whose name is Lizzie Woods, who promptly wrote here to her father. The letter was returned to her, White having evidently left before the letter reached this city.

It is not known where White is now located, but Chief Thompson is trying to learn his address.

WASTE OF WATER MUST BE STOPPED

SUPT. MORLEY TELLS WHY WATER METERS ARE NEEDED.

When asked for some figures on this matter, Superintendent Morley said: "For years we have been troubled in looking after leaks, and as the work of our men has become so extensive, we have been compelled to take severe measures. We have ordered some meters, and when they arrive we propose to install them wherever we deem it necessary. When a leak is reported at our office we send a man to see what is the matter, and as a result in many cases the supply is low. We tell these parties the hydrant has been left running when it should not have been, and invariably we are told that the running will be stopped in the future. But it is not. Within the past year our consumption has increased over 175,000 gallons daily, and unless some precaution is taken, we will be compelled by necessity to purchase a new pump. These things cannot be bought for a song. The revenues have increased only about $1,700, and by this it can be readily seen that water is furnished at below cost. That is not business, you know. Wilful waste of water is an important question with the trustees, and it must be stopped, and that immediately."

Where the first meter will be located has not yet been definitely decided by the officials of the water works, and this will not likely be attended to until the latter part of the week. The order. The order for a number was placed several weeks ago, and the first were to be received not later than last Saturday, but for some unexplained reason they are not here.

He Is Wanted On a Charge of Assault With Intent to Kill.

Of Toronto and Beat Him Severely, Disfiguring Him For Life.

HE THREATENED TO KILL HIM

From a Staff Correspondent.

Columbus, March 24.—(Special)—Governor Nash has honored a requisition made by Governor White, of West Virginia, for the extradition of Peter Fulmer, who is confined in the county jail at Steubenville and who is wanted to answer a charge of assault with intent to kill in Hancock county, W. Va.

Fulmer made a vicious assault on R. F. Watson, who is a special policeman at an opera house in Toronto. Watson arrested a brother of Fulmer for disorderly conduct and the latter, who was working at Irondale at the time, swore he would get even with the officer for doing this. He sent word that he was going to do up the entire police force of Toronto and soon after he went to the town. He found that Watson was employed in a pipe yard on the West Virginia side of the river during the day time. He remained in town over night and crossed to the other side the following morning to find Watson. He found him at work and attempted to assault him, but was prevented from doing so by a foreman and other employees.

Fulmer waited late in the afternoon, when he met Watson at the ferry as he was about to cross to Toronto. He had a mace in his possession and he told Watson that he would have to take his medicine. The latter pleaded for mercy, but Fulmer knocked him down and beat him severely. Two men heard Watson's cries and came to his rescue. They pulled Fulmer from his victim, but while doing so he kicked the latter on the jaw, leaving a mark which will disfigure him for life.

Fulmer said he would kill Watson and then fled to the Ohio side. He was arrested and taken before Mayor C. E. Miller, of Toronto, who gave him a jail sentence of 25 days. Fulmer is a burly fellow, over six feet tall, weighing 218 pounds. He is young. Watson is well up in years and is small in stature, weighing but 155 pounds.

The assault took place on March 11. Sheriff C. F. Allison is authorized to take Fulmer from the Jefferson county jail to Hancock county. The charge against him was filed in Justice Bradley's court. Affidavits have been filed by three witnesses to the assault. S. B. Taylor, an attorney of Toronto, wrote a personal note to Governor Nash, scoring young Fulmer in severe terms, and urging that the extradition be allowed. He said the man had a reputation as a puglist.

NEWSPAPER MEN

A Movement Has Been Started to Form a Press Club in This City.

The first steps have been taken toward forming a Press club to be composed of the newspaper men and other members of the trade in this city. A temporary organization has been formed and at a meeting to be held later in the week a permanent organization will be effected.

Like similar journalistic organizations the local club is being formed upon pure social lines, for "they are all jolly good fellows."

Palm Sunday Services.

Palm Sunday was fittingly observed at the Church of the Ascension at both morning and evening services. Rev. R. H. Edwards, rector of the church, preached at each service and his sermons were much appreciated by the large congregations. Special music was rendered by the choir and highly enjoyed. Communion was also celebrated at the morning service.

FOOTBALL GAME

A Spirited And Interesting Contest in the East End Saturday.

The association football game between the Buckeyes and the Laughlins for the benefit of F. P. Judge took place Saturday at Columbian park. The Buckeyes won the toss and chose the west end. The ball in the start was sent up in the Laughlin end. Tucker cleared, but kicked out, giving a corner for the Buckeye, but Laughlin got the ball away. From a throw in the Buckeyes got the ball well up 'n goal again. Godwin ran out of goal to save, failed to stop a low shot by Alcock, who scored the first point for his side.

This seemed to arouse the energy of the Laughlin forwards, who immediately ran the ball up, and from a scrimmage in the north of the Buckeyes' goal, Challiner scored for the Laughlins shortly before half time.

At the re-start McCullough took the place of Godwin in goal. The Buckeyes again attacked, but the fine defense of Pope and Tucker, who played a fine game was too much for them. The Laughlin forwards again got possession of the ball, and after some tricky play Challiner shot for goal hitting the cross bar. On the rebound of the ball, however, he again scored the second point for the Laughlins.

The Buckeye forwards tried hard to score, and Layson shot above the bar. McCullough saved neatly several times. From this point of the game the Laughlins had the advantage, and Challiner scored a third point for his side, which the Buckeyes disputed on account of an alleged foul by Little.

The referee over-ruled and the Buckeye's left the field and refused to play to a finish, there being but seven members left to play.

The referee's decisions were very impartial, giving the Buckeyes every point due them.

Laughlins won by 3-1.

English Residents of the East End to Form One Probably This Week.

There is a movement on foot in the East End to organize a cricket club, which if formulated gives promise of being one of the best in the country. It is a well known fact that many of the English residents of the Fifth ward, and especially those employed in the East End potteries, were cricket players while in England and now that they have moved to this section they have by no means lost interest in the game.

FOR TRANSITION OF CUBA.

Conference at White House Considered Transferring of Government to the Islanders.

Washington, March 24.—Matters incident to the transition of Cuba from American to Cuban control formed the subject of a conference of several hours duration at the White House last night. Those present included the president, Secretary Root, Postmaster General Payne and Governor General Leonard Wood. General Wood's visit here will be very short, and officials desire to learn everything possible about the condition of affairs while he is in Washington. The subject was gone over in many of its features and a very general interchange of ideas expressed. Postmaster General Payne had his first opportunity to meet General Wood last night.

Mr. Payne believes that the change in the two governments, so far as postal matters are concerned, can be accomplished very easily, although he thinks it will be necessary, for a time at least, to retain some of the postal officials of the island in their present places until the business of the de-

THE OLEOMARGARINE BILL

To Receive Share of Attention in Senate This Week.

Washington, March 24.—The oleomargarine bill will receive a share of the attention of the senate during the present week, but if there should be a time when no one is prepared to speak on it Senator Proctor, who will have charge of it, will give way to the Chinese exclusion bill, which is in the hands of Senator Penrose. Senator Proctor will call the oleo bill up after the expiration of the morning hour today and will make a statement of the intent and purpose of the bill. It is probable that further consideration then will be postponed for a day. Senator Proctor expresses the opinion that the final vote on the bill will not be long postponed, and it is understood that the members of the committee on agriculture, who are opposed to the bill, will not contend for many days for debate. Senator Proctor already has presented to them the desirability of fixing a time for a vote and while many senators have made no opposition to this proposition Senator Bailey thus far has objected. The present indications are that the bill will not be before the senate a great length of time. Senators Penrose, Mitchell and Fairbanks will be among those who will make speeches in support of the Chinese bill. This measure will provoke no little controversy. The Indian appropriation bill probably will be reported from committee during the week, and will receive early attention.

CONFERENCE MAY PREVENT IT.

Believed One Will Be Held Between Operators and Miners—Organizers
May Be Sent Into the New and Kanawha Fields.

Charleston, W. Va., March 24.—The announcement of Secretary-Treasurer W. B. Wilson, of the United Mine Workers of America, that a strike would likely be called soon of the 35,000 miners in this state and Virginia, caused no surprise here, where both sides seem to be anticipating it. It is believed that a conference between the operators and the miners of the two states will soon be held, although there are reports that the demands of the miners may be made without further conference. Representatives of the operators have been here for the past two days from the Kanawha, New and Elk river districts.

Among other matters discussed was the purpose of the United Mine Workers to send organizers into the New and Kanawha fields to organize the miners. The United Mine Workers' organization has never been recognized in either of these fields, and the situation is causing the operators uneasiness. The operators also discussed car supply and wages for the coming year, and a committee was appointed to meet a committee of the West Virginia miners' association with the view of arranging the wage scale.

MAY WARD OFF STRIKE.

Effort to Be Made to Have Anthracite Convention Adjourn Without a Declaration.

Shamokin, Pa., March 14.—From an official source it was learned yesterday that an effort will be made today to adjourn the joint convention of districts Nos. 1, 7 and 9, United Mine Workers of America, without committing the delegates to a strike declaration.

At a meeting which began at 11 o'clock Saturday night and continued until early Sunday morning the special committee appointed on Saturday formulated a resolution which, the leaders hope, will satisfy both radical and conservative delegates. The committee, which consists of President Mitchell, District Presidents Nichols, Fahey and Duffey and the three district vice presidents, held another session last night.

The report of the committee will take the form of a resolution, the principal clause of which, it is authoritatively stated, will recommend the appointment of a committee to present to the operators the demand of the convention. Incorporated in the report are a number of resolutions adopted during the week, in addition to these made public by President Mitchell. All of these resolutions, it is stated, contain a strike declaration, effective April 1, but they were made subject to the resolution of the special committee report, which, so far as could be learned, does not declare for a strike. All of these demands made in the scale committee report are also embodied in the resolution, but the statement is made that only two of these—an eight-hour working day and the weighing of coal wherever practicable—will be insisted upon if the convention adopts the resolution. Should the report prove satisfactory the convention is expected to select a committee composed of others than officers of the union.

In the event of the operators refusing to recognize the committee it is within the province of the district presidents to declare a strike after receiving the sanction of the national executive board. When asked last night if the above statements were correct President Mitchell did not deny them, but declined to discuss the subject. The entire matter now rests with the delegates and it is possible

Lowell, Mass., Threatened With One of Greatest Strikes In It's History.

Lowell, Mass., March 24.—Lowell is threatened with one of the greatest strikes in its history as a result of the communication sent to the textile union by the mill agents in reply to the official demand of that body for an advance in wages for the textile operatives of the city. The communication was read at the meeting of the textile council yesterday afternoon and was a positive unconditional refusal of the demands. It was not a joint note, but each agent answered for himself. The language, however, was identical. It is believed that the note was framed at a meeting of the mill officials in Boston last Thursday night.

The increase demanded was to have gone into effect today, but because of the delay in the reply the various unions represented in the central body have not had an opportunity to express their views on the new aspect to the situation, so it has been decided to postpone final action until a meeting Wednesday evening next. Meantime special meetings of the unions will be held and a vote will be taken on the question of a strike. An informal vote was taken Sunday, and it is said that three-fourths of the number present favored a strike, the others reserving their decision until Wednesday night.

New Bedford, Mass., March 24.—At an executive committee meeting of the national loom fixers' union yesterday the principal business transacted was to vote to authorize the loom fixers' union of Lowell to use its own discretion in the matter of striking.

According to this newspaper 300 strikers went last Friday to the police station and demanded the release of the ringleader, who had been arrested the previous day. This demand was refused. The strikers reassembled the following day (Saturday), attacked the jail and attempted to release the prisoners. They fired at the soldiers, who were guarding the prison. The latter, in turn, fired on the mob. Thirty of the rioters were killed and one soldier was wounded.

Wintering in Colorado And Utah.

The climate of Colorado and Utah has long been world famous, but it is only within recent years that attention has been given to the delightful winter climate of these states. Today physicians all over the United States send their patients to Colorado and Utah to escape the rigors of eastern winters and to benefit by her invigorating atmosphere and health-giving sunshine.

It is not necessary to add an elaborate argument—the conclusion is self-evident and inevitable. The winter climate of Colorado and Utah on the whole presents advantages for the invalid and the pleasure-seeker that cannot fail to command attention.

An erroneous impression prevails that because the Rocky mountains have a high elevation the mercury in the thermometer drops down below zero in the winter season and stops there, and that the snow mounts up with the altitude. The fact is that the average precipitation of moisture in the lowlands of the mountain region during the entire year is only 14.15 inches. With such average precipitation there is practically no danger of snow blockades on the railroads, save at a few points exposed to drifts and these points have been amply protected. This is especially true of the lines of the Denver & Rio Grande and the Rio Grande Western between Denver and Ogden at all seasons of the year. Facts speak for themselves, and the fact is that travel over "The Scenic Line of the World" has gone on with less interruption from snow blockades during the last ten winters than it has upon the majority of railroads in other localities which are popularly supposed to be more free from such delays than the mountain systems. Instead of a single "Hospital day,"
the Hospital association has decided upon a "Hospital week" this year, and
the period is now at hand. The hospital project has progressed so well,
notwithstanding the discouragements
encountered, that success now seems assured. To the ladies who have worked so indefatigably to supply a public want more than public thanks
are due. Every citizen of East Liverpool will acknowledge that a hospital
is one of the greatest needs of the city; every citizen of public spirit
ought therefore to do all in his power
toward the speedy establishment of such an institution. It is not enough
to say that a hospital is a good thing
and we ought to have one. Good things cost money, and money the
hospital association must have before
it can proceed far with its noble work.
The appeal that will shortly be presented to the public for increasing the hospital fund ought to meet with a generous response. The past year has been one of great prosperity in East Liverpool, and citizens can afford to give liberally toward a hospital now, if ever. Let each one do his part, and be sure that he does not make a selfish calculation as to what his part really is, and the
whole hospital fund can be raised
without burdening anyone. The sincerity of the oft-repeated assertion
that we want a hospital is now to be put to the test. How earnestly the
people desire to see such an institution established will be proven by the size of their contributions. Money
talks, and every subscription counts,
whether it be big or little.

Those who fear that the government and the customs of the United States may be subverted by the immigrants flocking here cannot find very much to support their views in the revised census figures as to foreign population in the United States. During the 10 years between 1890 and 1900,
3,750,000 foreign immigrants landed
in the United States. Nevertheless,
13 states of the country had fewer foreign inhabitants at the end of the 10 years than they had in 1890. In
the whole country the increase in the number of foreign born inhabitants in 1900 over 1890 was only 1,100,000,
against an increase of native born
inhabitants in the same period of 12,
100,000. This disparity is a most welcome showing, but it cannot be used
as proof that criminals and paupers
from abroad do not continue to gain
a foothold upon our shores contrary
to the laws of the land.

All the principal associations of

business men throughout the country
are united in supporting and approv-
Representative Adams, of Pennsylvania, for the reorganization of the consular service of the United States on a merit system basis. The United States can never have proper representation abroad until it abandons the
haphazard method of filling its important consular posts.

An English economist of prominence
asserts that public confidence in the free trade policy has evaporated during the last 30 years. The industrial prosperity and commercial growth of the United States, in defiance of free trade principles, is an object lesson
that has made an impression upon the
whole world.

It is not necessary for the legislature to enact new laws against gambling. If it could devise a way of enforcing present laws it would accomplish something worth while.

If half the money that is wasted in worse than useless pleasures could go into the hospital fund for a few weeks, there would be no occasion to worry about its future.

Senator Clark, of Montana, made known his presidential aspirations and the next day the skies wept cold
Montana.

As a plain business proposition,
why should the state continue to keep up a canal system that is operated
at a loss?

Carnegie recently gave away 38 libraries in a day and intimated that there were more where those came
from.

Des Moines has a candidate for mayor who weighs 400 pounds.
Strange to say, he is running well.

Why does the man who asserts that
there are rascals in politics so frequently try to break into the game?

DR. HAMILTON WON.

the Suit Before 'Squire
McCarron.

The suit of Dr. W. W. Hamilton
against Bert Maple, tried before a jury
in Justice McCarron's court on Saturday, resulted in a verdict for the doctor for the sum sued for, $15.

Dr. Hamilton was put on the stand
after other physicians had testified, to show that the difficult operation of
performed the operation before in East Liverpool, and showed by means
of charts that he followed the process
described by an eminent authority,
Prof. Hurst, of the University of Pennsylvania, in such operations.

An effort was made by the prosecution to show that the woman's death
resulted from injuries sustained in the operation. Dr. Hamilton testified that death, which resulted five or six days
later, was not due to the operation;
that it could not have caused the injuries alleged, and that death was due to uremic poisoning. Had it resulted from the operation it would have followed in a much shorter time. His testimony satisfied the jury and the court. Attorney J. H. Brookes, in his address to the jury, highly eulogized
the doctor's skill and knowledge.

Citizen of France Executed For Shooting at Haytian Official.

Port au Prince, Hayti, March 24.—
Leon Gabriel, who claimed to be a citizen of France and who was executed Saturday after having fired a shot from a revolver at General
Cameau, the chief of police, was formerly an aide de camp of ex-President
Legitime. Upon this fact the Haytian government bases the claim that Gabriel was a citizen of France. He was regularly registered here at the French legation. He left seven children.

As a result of the execution of Gabriel, the French minister has requested that a French man-of-war be sent here and is awaiting a reply from Paris. Quiet prevails here.

To Lord Rosebery's famous "spade
and wind" metaphor may be added two
mixed metaphors, perpetuated by Lord
Londonderry.

In 1896 Lord Londonderry threw the house of lords into roars of laughter
during the debate on the second reading of the Irish land bill by gravely declaring that "this is the reason why
you have failed to settle the Irish land
question in the future as you have done
in the past."

In the course of the same speech he concluded a period with, "This is the keystone of the bill, are you going to kill it?"

Better still was a sentence which he
uttered in 1897 when speaking once
more on the Irish land question. "That your lordship will see," referring to a quotation he had just made, "indorses
up to the hilt what I have said."—Tat-

WELLSVILLE

Desire of Boys to See a Conflagration Discovered Just in Time.

A fire which might have resulted seriously was narrowly averted Saturday afternoon at the home of David Mannist, Main street. Mrs. Mannist had hired several small boys to clean the yard at the rear of the house, and it seems that after piling up a large amount of straw, paper and wood against the high pine board fence and woodshed the boys were seized with a desire to see a "great big fire," which they evidently would have had, if Mrs. Mannist had not appeared on the scene just as the flames were making good headway in the shed and along the fence.

The boys were severely reprimanded and immediately discharged.

Fifty Foreigners Added to the Force at the Carroll-Porter Boiler Works.

Fifty foreigners who arrived in the city last week started to work in the Carroll-Porter boiler works this morning. It is said they are skilled mechanics. Those of them that are married will move their families here and the population of Wellsville will be materially increased.

However, they have as yet been unable to secure houses and the chances are that they will be compelled to live alone for some time.

The management of the boiler works has had much difficulty in securing men and the arrival of this large contingent is a source of satisfaction, as the numerous orders which have been accumulating recently can be disposed of in a few months.

LADIES' WHIST CLUB

Delightfully Entertained at the Home of Mrs. Black Saturday Evening.

The Ladies' Whist club was delightfully entertained by Mrs. Harry Gourley and Mrs. Black at the residence of the latter, Front street, Saturday evening. The social card game was indulged in for several hours, after which a choice collation was served by the hostesses.

The members of the club present were: Mrs. T. W. Butler, Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. G. L. Howe, Mrs. P. M. Smith, Mrs. F. K. Hutchison and Mrs. Julius Goetz; Misses Harriet Silver, Grace Parke, Edith Mannist, Blanche Butler, Florence Everson, Lillian Barrow and Jennie Jenkins.

BLOOD POISONING

Resulting From an Injured Hand May Cause James Linn's Death.

While at work in Stevenson's foundry last week James Linn met with an accident, which, it is feared, may result in his death. His left hand was struck by a falling piece of heavy iron, and in consequence very badly mashed. For a day or two the wound inflicted was not considered dangerous and not until Saturday was there any cause for alarm.

It was then stated by the attending physician that blood poisoning had set in, the ultimate result of which can only be conjectured. Relatives of the unfortunate man have been summoned and grave fears are being entertained as to the possible results.

CHURCH AT CHESTER

Will No Doubt Be the Result of Episcopal Services Held There.

The second Episcopal service ever held in Chester were held yesterday afternoon in the M. E. church. A large congregation listened to a splendid sermon and pathetic appeal by Rev. Edwin Weary, rector of St. Stephen's church. His appeal to Christians to follow the Savior through this holy week was very touching and many were made to realize that the observance of these holy days is not alone a custom, but a duty.

Rev. Mr. Weary is a deservedly popular minister, but is destined to become more so as people of this critical age are not slow to recognize the talent and godliness that are so prominent in his makeup. Through his efforts Chester will no doubt be rewarded by the establishment of a church in the near future. It is his aim to have the church centrally located. The exact location, however, is not definitely settled upon, but will likely be in the vicinity of Rock Springs park.

Advance Prayers.

A young Germantown mother in putting her five-year-old son to bed noticed that he clambered under the covers without saying his prayers. She grew reproachful. "Why, Warren, mother never knew you to forget your prayers before."

"Indeed, mother," was the reply, "I didn't forget. Grace and I said then for four nights during the rain yesterday, when we couldn't play. We would have got through the whole week if nurse had not come to dress us."

The Reason.

"There is a very intimate nervous connection between the brain and the stomach," said the scientific man.

"That explains it," answered the humble person who is willing to learn.

"What?"

"The reason why nearly every political alliance or financial deal has to be discussed at a banquet."—Washington Star.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS GREW.

Good News of Merchandise, in the Philippines.

Washington, March 24.—The insular division of the war department has prepared for publication a statement showing in comparative form the commerce of the Philippine islands for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1901, and 1900.

The total value of merchandise imported during the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1901, was $21,818,212, against $17,187,991 for the corresponding period of 1900; and the exports of merchandise amounted to $18,866,798, against $17,883,200 for 1900. These figures show an increase of 27 per cent for the imports and 6 per cent for the exports during the nine months.

Gold and silver was imported during the nine months of 1901, to the value of $2,082,644; same period of 1900, $2,363,291; exported during the 1901 period, $736,167; corresponding period of 1900, $2,222,807.

The value of merchandise coming from the United States for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1901, was $2,712,190, an increase of $1,140,218 over the corresponding period of 1900, while the exports for the period of 1901 amounted to $2,737,059, an increase of $629,534.

CONVICTS KILL THEMSELVES.

Five Burned to Death in Attempt to Escape.

Kosciusko, Miss., March 24.—Five county convicts made an attempt Saturday night to burn their way out of prison, burning the stockade house, in which they were confined, down over their heads, cremating themselves. They were all negroes and named as follows:

Bob Burt.
Phil Newell.
Jim Culberson.
Amos Raiford.
Jim Joaze.

The prisoners were let out to Robert Campbell, county contractor, whose farm is situated 16 miles west of this place and were all charged with minor offenses.

CUBAN RECIPROCITY.

Fight Over It May Reach Floor of House This Week.

Washington, March 24.—There is a bare possibility that the fight over the question of Cuban reciprocity will be transferred to the floor of the house during the coming week. The probabilities, however, are that the reciprocity resolution introduced by Mr. Payne, the floor leader of the majority after the action of the Republican caucus last week will not be called up until the following week, though upon this point no definite decision has been reached as yet by the leaders. The present program is to take up the army bill after the disposal of the Moss-Rhea contested election case on Tuesday. Several days will be consumed in general debate on this bill, as the Democrats are inclined to use it as a text for speeches in opposition to the policy of the administration in the Philippines. It is a foregone conclusion that Mr. Rhea will be unseated when the vote on his contested election case is taken on Tuesday.

To Russian Navy by Religious Services, at Cramps' Ship Yard, Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, March 24.—The big battleship Retvizan, which has just been completed for the Russian government at Cramps' shipyard, was officially added to the czar's navy yesterday and the regular routine of a man-of-war began on the ship. The ceremony was simple, and was conducted by Father Ratskowsky, the ship's chaplain. The crew of 750 men and officers were lined up on the main deck with bare heads as the services of the Greek church were read, after which, at a signal from Captain Stehensnovitch, the Retvizan's commander, the blue cross of St. Andrew was hoisted at the stern. Soon after the ceremony had been concluded the battleship was hauled into mid-stream by four tugs and will sail for Cronstadt about April 12.

RIOTING IN BELGIUM.

Suffrage Advocates Use Dynamite—A Big Parade.

Brussels, March 24.—The Liberals and the Socialists, including many members of the chamber of deputies, held a big parade here this afternoon. The paraders halted in front of the city hall and sent in a deputation to the Burgomaster of Brussels, bearing a petition for universal suffrage and proportional representation. The burgomaster promised to submit this petition to parliament. There were no disorders here yesterday.

As Prince Albert, a nephew of King Leopold, was leaving the theater Saturday night hundreds of socialist students gathered about him and shouted for universal suffrage.

Dynamite cartridges were exploded yesterday morning in the postoffice at La Louvere, province of Hainaut, Belgium. The building was damaged, but no one was hurt.

The explosion last Friday night of dynamite cartridges under the home of M. Derbaise, a Catholic deputy, at Binche, Hainaut province, by which no one was injured, is also attributed to the suffrage agitation.

WILCOX VERDICT A SURPRISE.

Young Man Found Guilty of First Degree Murder.

Elizabeth City, N. C., March 24.—The verdict that young Wilcox was guilty of murder in the first degree for the killing of Miss Cropsey seems to have met with popular approval, though it was not considered probable early Saturday that the jury would so report. District Attorney Ward said Saturday he never looked for any verdict other than murder in the second degree.

Lawyer Aydlott, for the defense, will enter an appeal on behalf of the prisoner. He will seek to set aside the verdict on the ground that it was not consistent with the evidence brought out in the trial. There is little prospect of the prisoner paying the death penalty on the date set by Judge Jones. As the supreme court does not meet till next September, it is more than probable that it will be several months before the case is disposed of finally.

CARS WERE BEING GUARDED.

Men Accused of Attempting Wrecking Released, at Norfolk, Va.

Norfolk, Va., March 24.—A. C. Worrell and George Wynne, strikers, who were arrested at midnight Saturday night, charged with attempting to wreck a car of the Norfolk Railway and Power company, were released last night on $500 bond each. The police claim Wynne had a revolver on him when arrested.

All cars were being looked out for last night by guards. The suburban lines especially were being closely watched. There were 50 deputy sheriffs on duty and all pedestrians were being scanned. A repetition of Saturday night's trouble will mean the possible recall of the Seventy-first regiment, recently relieved from duty.

PRESIDENTS TO CONFER.

Should United States Senate Pass Nicaragua Canal Bill.

Managua, Nicaragua, March 24.—President Zelaya has accepted an invitation from the president of Costa Rica, Señor Iglesias, to visit Limon, Costa Rica, in order to confer on matters pertaining to the proposed Nicaragua canal. The acceptance of this invitation is contingent upon the passage by the United States senate of the Nicaragua canal bill. The date for the proposed visit has not yet been decided upon.

American League Rules to Govern.

Chicago, March 24.—Last year's American league rules will govern in the leading western universities in inter-collegiate baseball this year, and Joe Cantillon, the former American league umpire, will probably officiate at the college games. These points came out yesterday, as the result of an interview between Director George Huff, of Illinois, and Director Stagg, of the University of Chicago.

WILL IT END WAR?

Certain Boer Leaders Arrived at Pretoria, Under a Flag of Truce.

CONFERRED WITH KITCHENER.

Pretoria, March 24.—Acting President Schalkburger, F. W. Reitz, ex-secretary of state of the Transvaal, and Commandants Lucas, Meyer and Krogh, with their secretaries and attendants, arrived here Saturday, March 22, at 2:04 p. m., on a special train from Balmoral under a flag of truce.

Upon arriving here Mr. Schalkburger and his party drove immediately to Lord Kitchener's headquarters, where he had an interview with the British general. The Boers afterwards proceeded to the railroad station and entrained at 5 o'clock for Kronstadt, whence they will go out under a safe escort.

Boers Were Hard Pressed.

For a week past Mr. Schalkburger and his colleagues have been stationed at Rhenoster Kop, north of Balmoral, where they have been closely pressed by British columns. Dispatch riders entered Balmoral Friday night and notified the British of the approach of Mr. Schalkburger and his party.

It is reported that the Boer position at Rhenoster Kop had become almost hopeless and that Mr. Schalkburger once narrowly escaped capture.

London, March 24.—News that the Boer government had entered British lines is regarded as having but one meaning, namely, that another attempt is being made to negotiate peace. The fact that the censor passed the news of this movement is accepted as confirmation of this opinion.

Nothing is actually known here of the intentions of Messrs. Schalkburger, Reitz, Meyer and Krogh. It is possible they have only sought permission to traverse the British lines in order to consult with Mr. Steyn and the Boer generals, DeWet and Delarey. But whatever their object the news has been welcomed in London as pointing to the possibility of peace.

Some correspondence which was seized a short time ago, when Mr. Steyn narrowly escaped capture, proved that he and Mr. Schalkburger were anxious to conclude peace. No extravagant hopes, however, are being built on the outcome of the movements of Mr. Schalkburger and his companions, chiefly because it is feared that Delarey, in the flush of his recent success, will refuse to be a party to any negotiations.

Had Received No Official Information.

The war office has informed a representative of the Associated Press that it has received no official information either confirming or contradicting the news.

Commandant Krogh is one of the secretaries of the Boer government. He was formerly an administrator of Swaziland and has not been prominent during the war.

Brussels, March 24.—The Petit Bleu, referring to the arrival at Pretoria of Messrs. Schalkburger, Reitz, Meyer and Krogh, says it believes that Mr. Schalkburger's move is in response to fresh British overtures for peace, made out of gratitude for the release of General Methuen, and predicts that these overtures will lead to no result unless Boer independence is conceded.

TWO MEN WERE KILLED.

Others Injured in Railway Wreck, in Virginia.

Charlottesville, March 24.—Passenger train No. 38, northbound, on the Southern railroad, was wrecked by a landslide at Coveseville, 15 miles south of here, at 4:15 o'clock yesterday morning. The train was 40 minutes late and running at an unusual rate of speed. The engine was ditched and six coaches completely destroyed by fire. The loss of mail was the greatest in the history of southern railroading. Nicholas Lown, a Pullman car porter, and also an unknown tramp, were killed. The injured are: Turner, fireman, fatally burned; Mail Clerks A. L. Holton, seriously burned; C. R. Cover, legs burned; H. N. Link, arm broken; J. L. Schmidt, right side injured; J. F. Stikeler, hurt internally, and D. P. Wine, head bruised. Conductor M. T. Rust, hands burned; Engineer A. B. Lynn, slightly bruised. Turner was sent to the University of Virginia hospital and the others were sent on to Washington for medical attention. The passengers escaped without injury.

Neck Broken by the Fall.

Pittsburg, March 24.—Harry Whitesell, 28 years old, whose home is in Broad street, Sewickley, fell and broke his neck yesterday morning and died before any aid could be given him. He appeared at a camp of negroes, near Osborne station, about 8 o'clock.

OFFICIALS MUST GO.

New York, March 24.—Commissioner of Immigration Fitchie, who has returned from Washington, talked very freely yesterday of his call on President Roosevelt. He said he felt that his visit had done no good and that both he and Assistant Commissioner McSweeney would have to leave their positions. He said:

"I asked the president to send gentlemen of his personal selection in whom he had perfect confidence over to the island and let them look into our methods and see where we could do any better for the immigrant than we are doing. He would not listen to my proposition, but said that he had decided, because of the friction between New York and Washington, that the best thing to do was to remove the commissioners at this place. I told him he was mistaken; that there had never been any friction between New York and Washington, but between Washington and New York. He would not listen to any argument, but flatly announced his determination that both Mr. McSweeney and myself must go."

Mr. Fitchie knew nothing as to who his successor is to be, nor when the appointment is to be made.

CHOLERA AND THE PLAQUE.

Four More Cases of Former and Two Deaths of Latter, Reported at Manila.

Manila, March 2.—There have been four more cases of cholera here and two more deaths from the plague are reported. The health authorities believe that their rigid precautions have averted an epidemic.

As General Chaffee did not want the men of the Third Infantry to run the risk of cholera as a result of contact with the city, that regiment has already been taken aboard the United States transport Grant, which will sail for San Francisco one week ahead of her schedule time.

MOROS ATTACK AMERICANS.

Detachment of Signal Corps Have Fight in Mindanao—One of Signal Corps Killed.

Manila, March 24.—Brigadier General George W. Davis, stationed at Zamboanga, island of Mindanao, reports that a detachment of the signal corps, consisting of 17 men, has been attacked by 200 Moros near Parang, Mindanao. One of the signal corps men was killed. The Moros captured the transportation of the detachment, including four pack mules. The United States transport Buford has arrived here. She has on board a detachment of the Twenty-seventh infantry, a squadron of the Eleventh cavalry and 50 pack mules.

FRANCO-RUSSIAN DECLARATION.

Considered in Peking as Making For Peace.

Peking, March 24.—There is little discussion, either among the diplomats or the officials, of the Franco-Russian declaration, and this declaration is generally regarded as making for peace.

The Chinese newspapers are emphasizing the humiliation of China, saying she is treated by the powers as though she were incompetent to defend her own interests and that she is placed upon a level with Corea.

HOME STUDY COURSE

EDITED BY  BENJAMIN ANDREWS LL.D.

The National Period of American Literature

the banks of his own Merrimack, thus affording for the themes of his poetry. Like Scott, and Irving afterward, he introduces the old fashioned "chronicle of border wars" to give an air of credibility to a legend which might as well have been gathered from the land of the mountain inn as from the fourth book in his representative library of "Bunyan, Watts and a file of almanacs." But this was a custom of the time. The apostrophe to the river which flowed unabridged and unobstructed from mountain to sea is in the true manner of a dweller on its banks. So also is the description of lodge and wigwam, decorated with spoils of chase and war, and of the chief's magic skill and the daughter's woodland freedom and love, of the wedding feast to the river sacraments and the sachems from the crystal hills to the far southeast. The story of Indian pride, always greater than Indian love, carries with it the gloom which belongs to the forest pagan even in his days of peace. And in his hour of treachery and blood "Mogg Megone" shows how dark was the strife and dire the revenge and bitter the hate between the savage and the encroaching alien. So the "Legendary Poems" hint of a remote time when the Norseman touched upon this dreary coast and sailed away, and of a later age when Puritan Endicott offered a Quaker maiden to any sea captain who would take her to the Barbados to sell for "higher price than Indian girl or Moor." Then he turns back to aboriginal story "around Sebago's lonely lake" or in more distant Acadia, where French and English contend for domination, or to nearer Pentucket and the midnight raid of painted savages, or the daylight swoop of priest and sheriff upon Goodman Macey's cottage for the Quaker who had taken refuge from the coming storm.

In all this the past of the country with which the poet is familiar is recalled and clothed with its traditions and its history, not as prosy chronicler and annalist had depicted it for Englishmen at home or for posterity, but as fact and fancy were blended in the mind of the first New Englander who was lifted above the hard restrained life of the eastern seaboard to discover and use the scant material for poetry which lay in its valleys and on its hill-sides.

This Whittier saw and made the most of it. To the citizen of the middle or southern states it seemed unfruitful and poor as the soil in Essex pastures, but to the youths who have ranged over them and are now young in memory only the verse of their native poet will always have the flavor of the sea, the river and the mountains, as Bryant's will have of the woods and hills of Hampshire.

This legendary poetry and the ambition to develop whatever possibilities lay beneath a sterile surface both receive a check in the poet's manifest call to enlist in the antislavery movement which was starting in 1833. Colonization in Liberty was its first outcome, with Henry Clay as president of the society having the enterprise in charge, but as this scheme provided for freedmen only it appeared to meet the rising issue but partially. The pamphlet which Whittier wrote is the prose statement of his views, but "Randolph of Roanoke" was the beginning of his service in verse to the cause he had undertaken to champion at the cost of everything to which he had aspired. From this time his pen was busy in writing "Voices of Freedom." The pecuniary unprofitableness of these was counterbalanced by the growing response they elicited from the north.

weapons. It was enough for him if his shots raised a cheer; it was much the same to him if they called forth a howl of rage. Their very roughness made some of his verses appeal to the boys in blue as more correct measures and exact rhymes did not.

In particular this was true of his verse in the war period. It matters not if the most popular of them is founded upon a newspaper report of doubtful authenticity or that its movement is sometimes forward and back, marching and halting like Stonewall's troops. It has in it the spirit of reverence for the country's flag in spite of temporary disloyalty, and also of honor for Barbara Fritchie's defiant patriotism. The poetic idea is there and a ruling sentiment of the nation in sufficient abundance to furnish a drama to full houses night after night.

Generation after generation of children will recite it as they run Old Glory up the flagstaff and learn the lessons of loyalty to it in the patriotic literature of their country. Early in the war the note of forbearance and patience is apparent, as in his "Word For the Hour" and "The Watchers." Faith is strong in "Astraea" and hope in "Mithridates" and charity in the "Anniversary Poem." But in them all is the purpose to help on the triumph of consistency in a nation professing to be free and the home of the world's oppressed.

So earnest was he in these contributions of his to the strife that the thought was of more account than the word and the meaning of his own verse than the form of it. The need of it all is declared in the lines to the flag at the capital:

But now I see it! In the sun
A free flag floats from yonder dome,
And at the nation's hearth and home
The justice long delayed is done.

The war over and the strain past, the poet turned toward the fields and memories of youth with greater leisure to do more finished work. He could not write without the stress of agitating reform upon him those poems in which the rural heart rejoices in city or country. Peace had not been six months declared when he began to write what he called "Snow-Bound, a Winter Idyl, a Homely Picture of Old New England Homes." Winter on the Massachusetts coast has had a few apologists and countless maligners, but none has more lovingly portrayed its warm side or more faithfully exhibited its bleak side, giving to this also something of the softness and warmth of a snowdrift to a roistering, red cheeked boy and his frolicsome dog. Outside it is the carnival of the storm; within it is the picture of comfort and safety beyond the chill and the depth of overwhelming snows. It is the war song of the New England farmer in conflict with his winter, with a strain of victory at the end, and of joy through it all. Only a farmer's boy could have known what to write, and a true poet only could have set the snow scene in such verse.

Whichever aspect of country life the poet delineates he will always find readers who have seen or heard of his description and to be pleased with what they could not have so truly done themselves. Consequently he is the country people's poet more than any other and the songmaker of all who love the country from one month to 12 according to time and opportunity or even necessity. Fortunately he wrote enough to last days and weeks, as poetry should be read in limited quantities to be best appreciated. The variety of his themes and execution also prevents the weariness of monotony, the mediocre performance sometimes affording the relief of change from the greater strain and the surpassing excellence of his best achievement. But no one can read his poems in course or at random without knowing that early and late he was the tuneful voice of his province recalling its forest legends, uttering its

XL.—John Greenleaf Whittier.

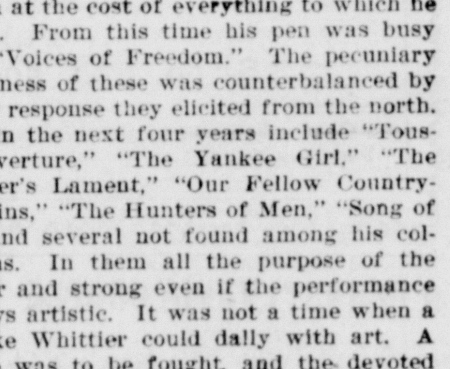

IN common with most American writers of his generation, John Greenleaf Whittier believed that there was a wealth of Indian tradition which might be turned into the riches of American verse. In the first complete collection of his poems Whittier placed "The Bridal of Pennacook" at the beginning, as if typifying his earliest poetic ambition finding the legend on indicating that he would not go far afield for the themes of his poetry. Like Scott, and Irving afterward, he introduces the old fashioned "chronicle of border wars" to give an air of credibility to a legend which might as well have been gathered from the land of the mountain inn as from the fourth book in his representative library of "Bunyan, Watts and a file of almanacs." But this was a custom of the time. The apostrophe to the river which flowed unabridged and unobstructed from mountain to sea is in the true manner of a dweller on its banks. So also is the description of lodge and wigwam, decorated with spoils of chase and war, and of the chief's magic skill and the daughter's woodland freedom and love, of the wedding feast to the river sacraments and the sachems from the crystal hills to the far southeast. The story of Indian pride, always greater than Indian love, carries with it the gloom which belongs to the forest pagan even in his days of peace. And in his hour of treachery and blood "Mogg Megone" shows how dark was the strife and dire the revenge and bitter the hate between the savage and the encroaching alien. So the "Legendary Poems" hint of a remote time when the Norseman touched upon this dreary coast and sailed away, and of a later age when Puritan Endicott offered a Quaker maiden to any sea captain who would take her to the Barbados to sell for "higher price than Indian girl or Moor." Then he turns back to aboriginal story "around Sebago's lonely lake" or in more distant Acadia, where French and English contend for domination, or to nearer Pentucket and the midnight raid of painted savages, or the daylight swoop of priest and sheriff upon Goodman Macey's cottage for the Quaker who had taken refuge from the coming storm.

In all this the past of the country with which the poet is familiar is recalled and clothed with its traditions and its history, not as prosy chronicler and annalist had depicted it for Englishmen at home or for posterity, but as fact and fancy were blended in the mind of the first New Englander who was lifted above the hard restrained life of the eastern seaboard to discover and use the scant material for poetry which lay in its valleys and on its hill-sides.

Shine on us with the light which glowed
Upon the trance bound shepherd's way,
Who saw the darkness overflowed
And drowned by tides of everlasting day.

The man will always be remembered as even greater than his work, good and effective as that was in the cause of truth and humanity. Much that might be said of his sterling virtues and his true poetry may best be summed up in a stanza of Holmes' tribute to his companion: gone:

Best loved and saintliest of our singing train,
Earth's noblest tributes to thy name belong,
A lifelong record closed without a stain,
A blameless memory shined in deathless song.

A JOINT COMMISSION MET.

Northern General Conference to Be Urged to Accept Plan For Federation In Several Branches of Church
Work—Church South Agreed.

Baltimore, March 24.—As a result of the meeting here of a joint commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, the general conference of the northern church will be urged to adopt at its next meeting a plan for federation in several branches of work.

The adoption of this plan will result in a consolidation of mission work and the publishing houses at Shanghai, China, the publication of a union paper in Mexico, and the preparation of a union hymn book, common catechism and common order of public worship.

The northern commissioners acknowledge that their church made a mistake in beginning the work of a revision of the hymn book without first inviting an equal committee from the southern church. It has therefore been decided that the work of revision must begin over again.

The plan of federation has already been adopted by the general conference of the southern church.

Lack of Nerve Force.

Day by day the columns of this paper bring new evidence from East Liverpool people of the great work being done by Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. Why they accomplish so much is easily explained. They are prepared with an eye single to restoring nerve force. They accomplish this object which no other medicine in the world is able to do. That's why hundreds of East Liverpool people offer their testimony.

Mr. Cyrus Hanselman, of No. 279 Sugar street, East Liverpool, O., says: "Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills are a fine medicine. It has done more for me to cure my old rheumatism than anything I ever took. The rheumatism had hung on for five or six years, and was all in the legs and shoulders. I could not sleep and at times could not move with the pain. I was told of the Nerve Pills and got them at Lar-kins' drug store, corner Sixth and East Market streets, and they took hold finely, something nothing else ever did. The pain and stiffness is about gone. I am feeling strong and get about and sleep well. It won't take many more to cure me completely."

ters avenue, yesterday afternoon on "A Miracle." The sermon was founded on an incident of the recent flood. Mr. Elliott told how the waters rose four inches above the floor of the mission, and that every other place on the same level in the district was flooded, but the water did not enter the mission room.

When he went to the mission the morning after the flood subsided, he told how the floor was dry, while the marks outside the door showed that the water was four inches above the floor. While there are a number of skeptics in the town, the incident is believed by some to be a wonderful miracle of Divine origin, and a large crowd assembled to hear Rev. Mr. Elliott's discourse yesterday afternoon.

SUSPICION AROUSED

Concerning the death at Asheville, N. C., of Charles Dunbar, who formerly worked in this city, a Toronto paper says:

"The manner of Mr. Dunbar's death is a mystery. He had been in a lumber camp in the North Carolina hills for some time in the hope of benefiting his health. When the body was found the features were so disfigured that identification was impossible and it was only through the label on a bottle of medicine in his pockets that his identity was established and his friends located. It is the belief of friends in Steubenville that the unfortunate young man was murdered."

Rev. J. W. Gorrell, of the Christian church, yesterday performed the ceremony for Mr. Frank W. Schweitzer, of McKeesport, Pa., and Miss Glendora Cessna, of Bedford, Pa.

The young couple, accompanied by the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. Lobengier, and wife, had come to the city, evidently of the opinion that they could be married without a license. At any rate they did not have one when they applied to Rev. Mr. Gorrell, whereupon that gentleman informed them that a license must be obtained.

W. H. Vodrey was found and through him the coveted paper was secured, after which the young couple were married at about 3 o'clock at the parsonage. The bride was modestly gowned in a blue foulard silk trimmed with lace, while the groom wore a dark suit. They presented a splendid appearance and gave as their reason for being married in this city their wish to surprise friends at home. Mr. and Mrs. Schweitzer will make their home in McKeesport, where the former is well known.
